Indict Dio, Ray For Tax Evasion

Charge Dio Dodged $20,168

NEW YORK (AP) — The government set out anew Thursday to try to put labor racketeer Johnny Dio behind federal prison bars, this time on income tax evasion charges. Indicted with him was his hulking henchman and bodyguard, Teddy Ray.

The State of New York has convicted Dio three different times. He currently is being held in Tombs City Prison awaiting sentence next month on the third conviction, a labor shakedown deal. He could get two years on this.

Riesel Case

However, the federal government never has hung as much as a single day in prison on the suave 43-year-old Dio. Last May its case against him in the acid-blinding of labor writer Victor Riesel blew up.

Income tax charges long have been a favorite federal device against racketeers it could not otherwise imprison. The late Chicago mobster Al Capone was put behind bars in such a manner. Racketeer Frank Costello currently is appealing a federal income tax evasion sentence.

Used Fifth Amendment

Dio and the 44-year-old Ray, a 240-pounder about as wide as he is tall, were witnesses earlier this month before a Senate Labor Rackets Committee in Washington. Both took refuge in the Fifth Amendment against self-incrimination and gave the committee not even so much as the time of day.

Dio, whose real name is John Dioguardi, was accused in the new federal indictment of failing to report $63,333 in income and dodging payment of $20,168 in taxes in 1950, 1951, and 1952.

Ray—his real name is Theodore Rij—was charged with evading $407 in income taxes in 1950.

Conviction on all counts could make Dio liable to 20 years in prison and Ray 10 years.

Filed Secretly

An indictment naming Ray alone was secretly filed by the grand jury last Feb. 19. A second indictment naming Ray and Dio was filed secretly June 17.

Wilson Has Plan To Cut Forces

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson said Thursday the Pentagon is working on plans that might reduce the military forces to 2½ million men by July 1959. That is about 300,000 below the current level.

Wilson called the 2½ million level his minimum planning figure, and emphasized that no decision has been reached as yet.

The retiring defense secretary recently ordered the military services to trim 100,000 men from their current 2,800,000 total by the end of his calendar year.

At a Pentagon news conference, Wilson said the outlook is for lower manpower levels every year for several years, and that "2½ million will be possible."

Wilson, who is to be succeeded by Neil H. McElroy, president of Procter & Gamble, said he expects to remain on the job through September and perhaps into early October.

Committee Approves McElroy For New Defense Secretary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Neil H. McElroy, 52-year-old soap company executive, won unanimous Senate committee approval Thursday to succeed Charles E. Wilson as secretary of defense.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga) of the Armed Services Committee, which voted the endorsement after questioning McElroy at a public hearing, said he expects Senate confirmation next week.

McElroy told committee members he will dispose of some of his investments in order to "avoid any possible confusion between these holdings and the responsibilities of the secretary of defense."

He said he plans to resign as president of Procter & Gamble Co. if confirmed but intends to retain 472 shares in the soap company and "a reversionary interest in a trust of 1,000 more." P&G stock is now selling for around $48.75 a share.

Prior to the hearing there had been reports that McElroy held 12,000 shares in the company, which would be worth nearly $600,000.

These reports were not gone into at the hearing. All nominees are required to file complete lists of their holdings with the Senate committee concerned, but these lists are held confidential unless the nominee requests that they be made public.

Russell said Senate action on McElroy's nomination probably will have to be delayed until next week to allow time for the record of Thursday's hearing to be printed.

The chairman said the record would include a letter from the attorney general's office to the Defense Department saying McElroy could continue to hold his stock in P&G, which sells soap and shortening to the military services in carload lots. Russell said it was the attorney general's opinion that there would be no conflicts of interest if P&G continued to supply defense agencies through competitive bidding.

He said he plans to sell his holdings in General Electric and Chrysler, both big defense contractors, and to resign as a director of both corporations.

156-YEAR-OLD MAN FOUND DEAD

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Manuel Rodrigues Coutinho, who claimed to be 156 years old and had a birth certificate to prove it, died Thursday. His son, who says he is 55, found his father's body in a furnished room and said the old man apparently starved to death.

Average rainfall in Texas ranges from more than 55 inches in the extreme east to less than 10 inches in the west.

Bandit, Riding Motorcycle, Robs Bagley, Wis. Bank

BAGLEY, Wis. (AP)— A motorcycle-riding bandit robbed the local branch of the Peoples State Bank of about $2,000 Thursday afternoon and roared away from this Mississippi River town in a cloud of dust.

The holdup took place at 2:10 p.m.

Loren Koecke, manager, was alone in the bank when a man wearing overalls walked in, pointed a gun at him and demanded money. The man wore spectacles but was unmasked.

When Koecke made no move, the gunman walked behind the counter and took currency, then ran outside, mounted his red motorcycle and sped north toward Prairie du Chien.

702 Tornadoes Kill 130 In 1st Six Months Of '57

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A record number of tornadoes — 702 — killed 130 persons in the United States during the first six months of 1957.

The total compared with the previous high of 654 during the first six months of 1955, the U.S. Weather Bureau said in a report issued Thursday. The record tornado total for a year is 870 set in 1955.

"Of the 702 tornadoes reported this year through June 30," the bureau said, "Texas had 162, Oklahoma 97, Kansas 50 and Nebraska 47."

The biggest killer was the twister which struck the southern suburbs of Kansas City May 20, killing 33 persons, the bureau said.

Another major tornado killed 10 persons at Fargo, N.D., June 20.

The increase in the number of reported tornadoes was attributed by the bureau "primarily to the increase in the number of storm detection and tracking radar stations in the Weather Bureau storm reporting networks."

HIGH ADVENTURE—Drawing dramatizes the story told by Claudio Corti, lone survivor of the four mountain climbers caught on the Eiger Mountain, Switzerland. Corti and his companion, Stefano Longhi, were making an attempt at the north wall. Stymied (No. 1), they crossed over the normal route and met two German climbers (No. 2). Since the Germans had lost their equipment, the four continued up together. Longhi slipped over the side of the cliff (No. 3). His rope was secured, food lowered and the other three continued upward to get help. Corti was injured (No. 4) and left while the Germans went on for help. They disappeared (No. 5) and probably fell. Rescuers lowered Alfred Hellpart, a great Alpinist, from the summit (No. 6). With extreme peril he roped Corti to his back and the two were pulled to safety.

23 Perish In Plane Crash In Denmark

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — A Soviet twin-engine airliner coming in for a landing hit a mist-hidden power plant chimney, sheered off a wing and spun crazily into Copenhagen Harbor Thursday. All 23 persons aboard perished, including one believed to be an American.

Several passengers were spewed into the air through a gash in the plane's side as the ship plunged into the muddy bay.

The plane, an Ilyushin-14 of the Soviet government airline Aerolot, was due to land at Copenhagen at 6:25 a.m. from Moscow via Riga, Latvia. At 6:28 it struck the more than 200-foot-tall stack of the H.C. Oersted power station four miles from the airport.

A passport was found at the scene with the name of John Brand, born in the United States in 1917, the U.S. Embassy said. No other information was given, except that officials were trying to establish whether such a person was an American citizen.

(Moscow messages said Soviet censors were stopping portions of a dispatch concerning a U. S. Embassy announcement that U.S. officials had been told there were no Americans aboard the plane.

(Moscow dispatches said diplomatic officials were still trying to identify a male victim named Brant or Brantt, reported from Riga to be an American. A spokesman for Aeroflat in Moscow said the full passenger list would not be announced until "our investigation" of the crash is completed.

(A later Soviet news agency announcement, 12 hours after the crash, said an American was among the victims.)

The five-man crew and 11 of the passengers were Russians, at least three of them women, Scandinavian Airlines officials said. Other passengers were three Germans, two Britons and one Norwegian.

Police refused to identify the victims until the passports were compared with the Aeroflat passenger list.

Eyewitnesses said there was a layer of mist over the harbor area and the tops of the five huge chimneys of the power plant could not be seen. The chimney tops are marked by red warning lights and all chimneys are floodlit at night.

Airport officials said visibility was reduced but a landing should have been perfectly safe. Several planes had landed earlier and immediately after the Russian plane crashed.

Blind Lovers Kill Woman's Blind Husband

MARSEILLE, France (AP) — Two blind lovers were held Thursday for the murder of the woman's husband, also blind.

Authorities pieced together this story of the killing:

Albert Bargini, 50, his wife, Anna, 45, and Maximilien Levesque, 22, worked in a departmental—county—institution for the blind, where they learned handicraft skills.

Mrs. Barbini and Levesque fell in love soon after they met two years ago. Barbini and his wife talked of divorce, but, Levesque said, Barbini was holding out for some "material profit."

Finally divorce proceedings were begun and at the same time violent fighting broke out between the Barbinis.

Levesque claimed he happened in on the couple's apartment during one of these fights and fired a revolver in Barbini's direction, then struck him with a hammer.

Mrs. Barbini said she and Levesque waited for Barbini to come home and as soon as he crossed the threshold Levesque began beating him with his fists. Then, she said, Levesque struck Barbini with a hammer, finally killing him with a revolver bullet through the heart.

Police said there were signs of a violent battle in the apartment. Bloody hand prints were found on the walls.

BRITISH HOUSEWIFE FACES DILEMMA

LONDON (AP) — A young British housewife pondered the problem Thursday whether to exchange a house with six bedrooms for a castle with 60.

Mrs. Ann Alington, 36-year-old mother of three, flew to Scotland to inspect ancient Wemyss Castle in Renfrewshire, left to her by her uncle, Lord Inverclyde, on the condition she live there at least 10 years.

Inverclyde, a millionaire landowner who died last June, also willed her $56,000 to maintain the castle if she decides to stay there. Otherwise the castle will be offered in turn to Mrs. Alington's three younger sisters.

The harrassed housewife told newsmen: "I can't decide. I have been coping with one daily helper at home, but the 60-bedroom castle would need a regiment of helpers."

GI Describes Fruitless Ordeal To Save Buddy

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Pfc. Wayne D. Hooker was able to tell Thursday about his heroic, but fruitless, ordeal to save a buddy's life after an auto accident on the desert.

The 23-year-old Goldsboro, N.C., soldier, stationed at White Sands Proving Ground, N.M., crawled and stumbled nine miles for aid after he was seriously hurt in a jeep accident which killed his friend, S. 3C Oscar A. Ellefson, 20, of Westby, Wis. The hospital described Hooker's condition as good.

"It seems impossible that he could have walked at all. He must have crawled on his hands and knees most of the way," said William Haggard, public information officer at WSPG.

Authorities at White Sands headquarters said the accident occurred on an isolated road 19 miles north of the base camp at the desert missiles testing site.

The two soldiers had gone on guard patrol at 6 p.m. Tuesday.

Hooker remained semi - conscious from his injuries for more than 24 hours. He said Thursday the jeep had overturned on a sharp turn about 7 p.m. Tuesday. Both men were crushed beneath the vehicle.

Hooker saw Ellefson was seriously hurt. He began his trek to a desert telephone post back toward headquarters, despite several crushed vertabrae.

About five hours later Hooker reached the phone. He was able to give the location of the accident, then passed out.

When an ambulance reached him, Hooker was in a coma and unable to give more information.

The ambulance crew found the wreckage of the jeep nine miles away.

Ellefson was dead.

Call Movie Stars In Trial Of Scandal Sheets

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Movie stars will make personal appearances on the witness stand in the criminal libel trial of Confidential and Whisper magazines, it was assured Thursday.

They will be summoned by the defense to say whether stories about them in the scandal magazines are true.

Subpoenaed celebrities include Rory Calhoun, Tab Hunter, Gary Cooper, Walter Pidgeon, Lana Turner, Sonny Tufts, Tom Neal, Buddy Baer, Allen Nixon, Tita Purdom, Paul Gregory, Dean Martin, Corinne Calvet, John Carroll, and Charlie Barnett.

The way was cleared for the defense to carry out its plan to call celebrities when Superior Court Judge Herbert V. Walker declined to make an immediate ruling on the admissibility of their testimony.

The prosecution had argued that testimony of the stars about the stories would be immaterial.

Judge Walker said he would rule on the admissibility when the witnesses take the stand.

Just who will be called remained defense attorney Arthur J. Crowley's secret. He said, "I will call some movie stars. I am also going to call some newspaper people."

Crowley has subpoenaed more than 100 Hollywood personalities as witnesses.

NOBEL PRIZE WINNER IS ABSENT-MINDED PROFESSOR

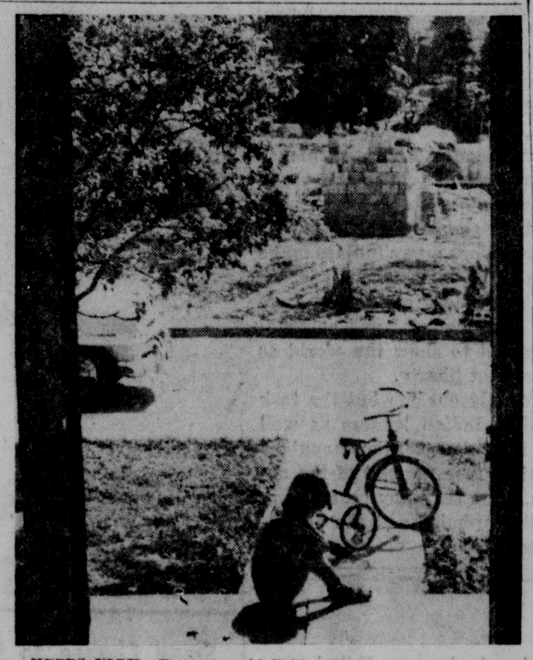

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP) — Nobel Prize winner and visiting professor of chemistry at Princeton University Edward C. Kendall learned he was an absent minded professor Thursday.

Dr. Kendall was informed by the Princeton Borough tax collector's office that he paid his taxes twice on his property here.

The tax collector has mailed him a $222.17 rebate after action by the Borough Council.

Dr. Kendall was a co-winner of the Nobel Prize for medicine and physiology in 1950 for his work in the development of cortisone.

House Over-Rides Ike's Plea, Cuts Foreign Aid

Slashed $809,650,000 Below His Minimum

WASHINGTON (AP) — In an open revolt against President Eisenhower's leadership, the House Thursday night passed a foreign aid appropriation slashed $809,650,000 below what he called a rock-bottom minimum.

The chamber over-rode three urgent pleas from the President in approving and sending to the Senate a $3,191,810,000 fund for the present fiscal year.

The vote on passage was 252-130. But the more significant vote came a short time earlier, when the House defeated 254-129 a Republican attempt to shunt the bill back to committee and add 715 million dollars.

On this latter tally, 171 Democrats and 83 Republicans voted against the motion to enlarge the bill's funds, while 44 Democrats and 85 Republicans favored the motion.

On final passage, 144 Democrats and 108 Republicans voted for the bill. Against it were 70 Democrats, 60 Republicans.

Protests by Eisenhower and his supporters that the sum was much too meager to insure strong free world defenses against communism were answered by cries that the United States has been giving away "the wealth of generations yet unborn."

Threatens

Eisenhower has threatened to call a special session of Congress in the fall if the money finally voted proves inadequate. But the administration has still a chance to recoup all or part of the slashed away funds in the Senate.

Republicans led by Rep. Taber of New York tried in vain to put back some of the money denied by the Appropriations Committee, but many of their own members deserted them to join a majority of Democrats who supported the committee's action in making the 809-million-dollar cut.

Just before passage, the House defeated by a rollcall vote of 254-129 a Republican move to send the bill back to committee with instructions to restore 715 million dollars in various parts of the bill.

Ike's Backers Lose

But the Eisenhower supporters lost in this as in every other move during a hectic day. The key vote came in late afternoon on a move to restore 350 million dollars that the Appropriations Committee had voted to cut from Eisenhower's $1,600,000,000 request for arms aid in the coming year. The motion lost on a 172-123 teller vote.

This vote was largely along party lines, although a few from each side crossed over to vote with the other side.

Teamsters Failed To 'Clean Their Dirty Linen' Meany Says

CHICAGO (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany Thursday expressed the opinion that the huge Teamsters Union has failed to "clean its dirty linen."

Meany talked with newsmen after the windup of the summer meeting of his organization's Executive Council, which has ordered a final hearing on AFL-CIO charges of "corrupt influences" against the Teamsters.

The topic came up after Meany was asked about reports that James R. Hoffa would be unacceptable to the AFL-CIO as president of the Teamsters. Hoffa, Midwestern boss of the Teamsters, is expected to succeed Dave Beck as president of the 1½-million-member union.

Meany said the 29-man Council had had no discussion of that subject, and he added: "I have no opinion on it."

A reporter said that John English, secretary - treasurer of the union, had stated in May that the Teamsters were "going to clean their dirty linen." He was asked the state of the linen now.

"I don't think it is any cleaner than it was then," Meany replied.

He pointed out that the Executive Board of the Teamsters had not held a meeting. The board is expected to meet Aug. 26, and will have an opportunity then to consider action on the charges.

The AFL - CIO« charged the Teamsters with corruption in May after Beck was accused of misusing about $400,000 in union funds.

The AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee plans to hold its second and final hearing in the case Sept. 5-6 in Washington. Meany announced the committee will "finalize" its report Sept. 23 and

Polish Papers Criticize West's News Reporters

LODZ, Poland (AP)—Two Warsaw Communist newspapers Thursday accused Western reporters of exaggeration and "an unfettered desire for sensation" in reporting the three - day Lodz streetcar strike.

The Warsaw correspondents of the Associated Press, the United Press and Reuters who covered the story here were singled out for criticism.

Although club - wielding police, backed by troops and armed factory militia, broke up the strike with tear gas, the two Warsaw papers did not mention the strike until it was over.

The papers are Trybuna Ludua and Szandar Mlodych.

They confined themselves to printing a government communique saying the workers themselves decided to return.

In fact, many workers were forced back to work at the end of police clubs and the armed militiamen stood guard over drivers of the first streetcar to begin running early Wednesday.

Thursday was the religious holiday of the Assumption of the Virgin Mary and there was public calm. The soldiers had left the carbarns and people were out parading in the sunny streets and lining up for movie theaters.

Gen. N. Twining Takes Oath As Chief Of Staff

WASHINGTON (AP) — Air Force Gen. Nathan F. Twining became chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Thursday succeeding Adm. Arthur W. Radford as senior military adviser to the administration.

Twining, the first airman to hold the top military job, took he oath at a White House ceremony while President Eisenhower looked on.

The 59-year-old veteran of both the Pacific and European theaters in World War II takes over in the midst of an economy campaign that has already cut down the size of American military forces and is continuing under rigid spending ceilings set by the administration.

Twining is a West Pointer and started out as an infantry officer. In World War II he served as an Army Air Force commander under a Naval admiral for one period and then switched to command an Air Force group in the Mediterranean area that put him under over-all Army command.

Twining came here as vice chief of staff of the Air Force in 1950. He will be 60 in October.

Twining will have a new immediate civilian superior around Oct. 1 when soapmaker Neil McElroy is slated to succeed Charles E. Wilson as secretary of defense.

Tiny Leukemia Victim Gets Transplant From Twin Sister

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A 20-month-old girl, suffering from acute leukemia, has received what doctors say may be the first successful transplant of human bone marrow.

The child is Laura MacDonald of suburban Drexel Hill and the transplant was made from her twin sister Mary. They are children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacDonald.

Laura was released today from the hospital pro tem but is no longer evident though doctors say it could return. She was admitted in mid-June in poor condition of the blood cells which is almost always fatal.

"Because little hope was held for her survival," a hospital spokesman said, "Heroic measures were agreed upon when it was discovered that Laura's twin sister had the same blood type and they has been a fathers. The decision was made to try and transplant Mary's healthy bone marrow to her sister.

"On July 11 Laura underwent radiation in an effort to destroy the diseased marrow immediately before the transplant.

"The following day the children were taken to an operating room where marrow was drawn from Mary's shin bone and hip bone and was made from her into syringes treated with anti-coagulants. This marrow was then injected into Laura's bloodstream.

"The youngster responded steadily to the transplant and had no violent reaction. In the ensuing days, there has been an ennearby Darby with the leukemia ow improvement in the condition of her blood."

The attending physicians, who declined to be identified, stated: "This is not to be construed as a cure for acute leukemia.

"This possibly may be the first probable successful transplant of antileukemic medicines and irradiation, and there has been a favorable effect upon the leukemia. The end result of which will require a much longer period to evaluate."

Eight Exchange Students Victims Of Asiatic Flu

NEW YORK (AP) — Laboratory tests on eight foreign exchange students who arrived Aug. 8 show they are victims of Asiatic flu, the city health department reported Thursday.

The eight arrived by plane from Europe.

Twenty-nine other students suffering from influenza arrived Tuesday from Rotterdam on the ship Arosa Sky. One, Nicholas Memmos, 17, a Greek exchange student, died Wednesday. Six of these students were released Thursday and the others are to be released Friday.

It has not yet been determined whether Memmos died from Asiatic flu.

Meanwhile, Lederle Laboratories of Pearl River, N.Y., shipped vaccine here for 85,000 immunizations. More vaccine is being flown to various sections of the country in order of priority suggested by the U. S. Public Health Service.

The vaccine is being flown to Lederle branches including those in Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Louis and Minneapolis.

Rescued Woman Says Bears Better Than Mosquitoes

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—An elderly but plucky woman, rescued Thursday after being lost in the woods for three days, said she wasn't frightened by the bears she encountered, "but the mosquitoes were terrible."

Mrs. Anna Fromberg, 73, who became lost Monday while picking berries, told from her hospital bed here how she survived by eating berries and drinking water from the Artichoke River.

"I prayed all the prayers and sang every hymn I know," Mrs. Fromberg said, "and I did it in Swedish too."

The place where she was found was only one mile from the farm where she works as a housekeeper.

Her physician, Dr. Dan Goldish, said Mrs. Fromberg got through her ordeal with nothing worse than fatigue and mosquito bites.

Mrs. Fromberg said she encountered numerous bears while she wandered about the woods, trying to get her bearings.

"I wasn't scared of them at all," she said. "There were lots of bears but they didn't bother me. One time a mama bear and two cubs came up real close to me. I could almost touch them. They looked at me for a long time and I looked at them. And then they just turned and went away."

At night, Mrs. Fromberg said, she rested on a rock in a clearing.

WISCONSIN LAW BANS SALE OF CRIME BOOKS

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A bill passed by the 1957 Legislature to ban sale of crime and horror comic books in Wisconsin was signed into law Thursday.

In approving the measure, Gov. Thomson said the law would assist in removing a potent source of unhealthy and antisocial influence.

The law is aimed at comic books depicting acts of indecency, horror, physical torture and brutality.

Violation is punishable by a fine of not more than $2,000 or imprisonment for not more than two years, or both.

The law does not apply to books which portray historical or current events or literary works of recognized merit unless acts are so depicted as to make obvious their purpose is to exploit minors' interest in brutality and indecency or to encourage commission of crime by minors.

Misunderstood America

It is not a new story that America is misunderstood and disliked in some parts of the globe. But it is always somewhat disheartening to learn to what limits these attitudes go in certain countries.

Recently the National Broadcasting Company presented a filmed television program called "As Others See Us," drawing on interviews with ordinary citizens in many lands around the world.

Opinions about America, often strikingly negative, ranged all over the lot. Most astonishing were those in India.

Though India is notorious for hostile attitudes toward America, few can fail to be shocked at the extremes of views revealed.

According to NBC reporter Joe Michaels, many Indians are firmly convinced that the widespread outbreaks of so-called Asiatic influenza are the result of American H-bomb experiments.

Such a distortion obviously is the work of the Communist propagandists in Asia. To us it is utterly fantastic. But we cannot laugh off the fact that many people accept the story as true.

Naturally such belief reflects ignorance—both of the scientific aspect of the H-bomb experiments and of American attitudes. But, unhappily, it also shows a far too great readiness on the part of the Indians to believe the worst of the United States.

We can never be complacent about such disfavor. It is well for us to be constantly re-examining not only our policies but our official and general behavior toward the countries we deal with.

But in India's case there is reason to believe that the official attitudes outspokenly expressed by Prime Minister Nehru, Krishna Menon and other leaders have tended to foster intense dislike of us rather than to encourage real understanding of this country.

For all its shortcomings, America is not the evil place many Indians make it out to be. On the contrary, it is still the world's greatest citadel of freedom, with vast material and spiritual accomplishment to show the world as the fruits of that liberty.

It is not only our job but the task of responsible Indian leaders as well to see that the citizens of that populous country gain a true portrait of the nation which, more than any other, demonstrates the promise and the fulfillment of freedom.

Good News

A cheerful note about the nation's home-building output was sounded recently by Roy M. Marr, president of the United States Savings and Loan League. He thinks the 18-month decline is nearly over.

A good many pubilc figures have blamed the whole drop-off in housing starts on "tight money" in the mortgage field and elsewhere. Marr believes that the sharp slide in the formation of new families is mainly responsible.

He notes that in 1947-50 the average annual gain in new U.S. households was more than 1,500,000. From 1950-53 this slipped to 900,000 annually. In the following three years it fell to an average of 840,000 a year.

Census Bureau studies indicate, however, that this decline in family formations has now been reversed and that an upturn is in progress.

If Marr's theory is accurate, and the figures truly reflect a fresh trend, then one of the wobbly props of the American economy may soon be shored up. And that will be good news for all of us.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Very few businessmen today rub perfume on their ankles to help them solve a vexing problem.

They may be missing a bet. After all, Socrates, one of history's greatest wise guys, perfumed his ankles to assist his meditations.

"The ancient Greek even perfumed their food and household pets," said Arnold S. Berke, who sees an increasingly scented future for the American male.

At 41 Berke, executive vice president of Schiaparelli's, is one of the youngest executives in the rapidly expanding cosmetics industry.

"Men now buy about 60 per cent of the perfume sold in this country," observed Berke, a student of psychology as well as odors.

"Most of it, of course, is for women. But speaking frankly, we are headed toward a time when most men will use perfume themselves—although naturally it will be specially formulated for them."

Berke sees no reason why this prediction should be startling.

"South American men have always worn perfume," he said, "and in Europe it was worn by more men than women, until the French Revolution came along.

"The trend here is unmistakable. Husbands used to borrow their wife's deodorants. Now 40 per cent of American men buy their own.

"They also are beginning to get away from medicinal smelling shaving lotions in favor of those that have a masculine fragrance."

Berke's firm is one of several that have already come out with special new perfumes for men. His brand is marketed in a bottle shaped like a pipe—to lend it a masuline air — and, according to him, has "a fresh outdoor spicy scent."

But Berke feels that the man of the future has little real choice as to whether he'll give off the fragrance of a walking pine tree or a rampant field of clover.

"The men may think they know how they want to smell," he said, "but it is the women of America who will finally decide."

Every woman knows the lift that perfume can give her. But what can it do for the more prosaic male?

"It gives you the feeling you have after playing a good hard game of golf...or taking a needle shower and getting a rubdown," said Berke firmly. "You feel like you can conquer the world."

The perfume industry is almost as secretive as the Atomic Energy Commission or an international spy ring.

"There can be from 10 to 100 scents blended in a single perfume," said Berke. "The formula of a successful perfume is guarded as closely as the keys to Fort Knox.

"We are coming out with a new fragrance. But even if you beat me with a rubber hose and put one of my feet in salt water, I wouldn't tell you what is in it."

Small Chance to Stop Hoffa In Bid for Top Union Post

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— The Senate Select Committee on Improper Activities in the labor or management field has longrange plans for Jimmy Hoffa.

It has no hope of blocking his election as president of the teamsters when the union holds its election at Miami in September.

The committee would like to nip Hoffa's bid for this job now, as a result of its efforts to show his association with racketeers in New York. But members believe that a lot more research on the 44-year-old labor-leading fireball from Detroit will have to be done before they can hope to halt Hoffa's career.

A committee spokesman explains:

"The upcoming election in the teamsters union is a private affair in which general public opinion will not mean a thing. Certainly what we have been developing about Hoffa's association with gangsters and racketeers in New York will come as no surprise to the officials of the teamsters union who will participate in the election.

"Look what we showed about Dave Beck's handling of union funds. This didn't get teamster officials excited enough to get rid of him. So it's not likely that our New York situation hearings will block Hoffa's election."

Hoffa's Activities since he was acquitted on federal charges of planting a spy in the Senate committee staff indicate that he is in full accord with the committee's views of his chance for winning Beck's job. He is going full steam in the campaign and is boldly talking about organizing all transportation workers into one huge union combine.

The one other possible roadblock in Hoffa's race for teamster presidency—in addition to the Senate committee's current hearings—is the Ethical Practices Committee of the AFL-CIO.

Albert J. Hayes, head of the committee, has said that he will recommend the executive council of the AFL-CIO hold a special hearing on the teamster case sometime before the Miami election.

This move is obviously one to try to influence the teamster election against Hoffa. But its chances of keeping Hoffa from the presidency are not good, most experts agree.

Thus It Probably falls to the long-range work of the Senate committee to try to get Hoffa out of the labor movement. And that's not going to be easy.

"In our investigation so far," a committee spokesman said, "we have come onto many leads which indicate that Hoffa has engaged in many questionable activities. But they will take patient and careful research to follow up. This won't be easy and it will take many months. But we are going to try to get at the real facts of his activities."

The case of Jimmy Hoffa is not the case of Dave Beck. The committee nailed Beck with high-handed use of union funds to feather his own nest. Hoffa's alleged sins aren't suspected of being those committed for fattening his own bank account.

From What They've shown of Hoffa's record so far, it appears that he has erred by being ruthless in his methods of gaining power in the union. The committee has laid ample evidence on the record to show that Hoffa has worked closely with some of New York's most notorious gangsters and crooks in his efforts to gain union power.

Hoffa's part in the New York labor picture was considered only incidental when the committee began investigating it. Johnny Dio, the gangster convicted of major crimes in connection with his union activities and under indictment in connection with the acid-throwing which blinded columnist Victor Reisel, was the committee's prime target.

It's believed that Hoffa's activities in Detroit, Chicago and West Coast will be the real pay-dirt for the committee's future investigations.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Paul Anderson, the 360-pound Georgia boy who didn't stop growing, aims to bring showmanship to the ungentle art of lifting weights.

"There hasn't been a real star in the strong-man business since Sandow," said Paul, referring to the turn-of-the-century Hercules promoted by Flo Ziegfield. "And even Sandow wasn't the strongest man in his day. But he had showmanship."

Paul's feats would make Sandow seem a weakling. He whipped the Russians at the Olympic games in Australia with his amazing prowess. He can raise 5,000 pounds in a back lift, 550 over his head, and do deep knee bends with 1,000.

Obviously, this is a lad who can throw his weight around. And he wants to make a success of it in show business. So far he has made appearances on the Ed Sullivan show, at wrestling matches, fairs and in a night club in Reno.

He passed up some lucrative dates to appear in his first movie, "Once Upon A Horse." As is fitting, he plays a blacksmith in the rip-snorting Western — which gives him the chance to lift a few horses.

How does he feel, lugging around 360 pounds on his 5 feet 11 frame?

"I feel great," remarked the 24-year-old pride of Toccoa, Ga. "No, it's not hard for me to get around. If I were fat, that would be different. But I'm all muscle, and muscle carries itself; it's not a burden.

"I'm pretty light on my feet. Matter of fact, I can run the 100 yard dash in 12 seconds."

Just as a simple exercise, he proceeded to lift me and my chair into the air. Obviously, this was no man to tangle with.

How does a small town boy get to be the world's strongest man?

"I always was pretty big," he admitted. "Then when I was in high school, I was playing football and I decided lifting weights would get me in better condition. Pretty soon I got so interested in weights that football fell by the wayside. I rose from 240 pounds to my present weight.

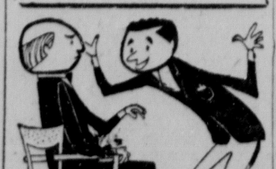

Folks expect him to have the appetite of a Diamond Jim Brady, but he said no.

"I don't eat an awful lot," Paul said. "I might have some orange juice and milk for breakfast with a protein food substitute. I work out during the day, so I seldom eat any lunch. For dinner I might have a steak. I average three quarts of milk a day.

HISTORICAL TRADEMARK

"The trademark is almost as old as trade itself. It was known in Crete, scene of Europe's most ancient civilization. And thousands of years ago Egyptian law required that every brick be marked so that the brickyard worker and even the individual slave brickmaker could be readily identified and held responsible for the product."—Beecher City Journal.

Wife Needs Husband's Help To Prevent Being Widow

Memo to middle-aged men:

Judging from my mail, an increasing number of wives are worrying about the health of their husbands. To put it bluntly, these wives don't want to be widows.

But anxious as they are to look after your health there are some things they can't keep you from doing.

Your wife can see that your meals are well-balanced and easy on calories. But she can't keep you from raiding the icebox at night.

Your wife can cut down on her demands so that the budget isn't a constant worry to you. But she can't keep you from being extravagant in such matters as having to drive the latest model car.

Your wife can limit the number of nights the two of you go out each week so that you can get plenty of rest. But she can't keep you from bringing your business worries home with you.

COOPERATE

Your wife can encourage you to get away from it all whenever you get the chance. But she can't keep you from turning a hunting or fishing trip into an endurance contest that brings you home exhausted.

Your wife can urge you to drive carefully, but there's not much she can do if you are the kind who likes to brag about how fast your car will go.

Your wife may be able to talk you into getting regular physical check-ups. But she can't make you take your doctor's advice about slowing down, losing 15 pounds or easing up on smoking.

Your wife doesn't want to be a widow. But she can only avoid it with your help.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles will look like a boob if the verdict of history agrees with the one just rendered by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark).

The senator blasted Dulles—in a speech prepared for the Senate today—for his handling of Egyptian President Nasser, who retaliated by seizing the Suez Canal. The seizure of the canal led to last year's Mideast war.

There won't be a final verdict for years: until the documents showing Dulles' policy on Egypt are finally opened to the public. But Fulbright has just examined many of those documents.

The weak spot in Fulbright's attack is his failure to show a motive for what Dulles did other than the reasons given already by the secretary and the Eisenhower administration. And Fulbright won't accept those reasons.

Fulbright was chairman of a Senate subcommittee which was created Jan. 29 to study this country's whole Mideast policy since 1945. It collapsed and died July 30 without reaching conclusions or making a report.

This was probably the real reason for the committee's quick end: it was made up of three Democrats and three Republicans and therefore would never reach agreement if it meant condemning Republican Dulles.

Fulbright, as it turns out, was all for condemning. These were some of the reasons given for folding the committee: too many documents to study and too many secret documents which couldn't be made public to back up conclusions.

This is the brief background: For years Egypt had wanted to build the Aswan dam, which would take the country out of the Middle Ages by developing irrigation and power for industry. The project was found to be sound.

Egypt said it would pay most of the cost but needed outside help. Russia offered the help. So did the United States. It proposed giving Egypt 54 million dollars on Dec. 16, 1955 and a total of 150 million over 10 years.

On July 19, 1956, Dulles suddenly canceled the American offer. He suggested Egypt couldn't afford such a dam after tying up her resources for arms purchases. This apparently angered Nasser, who quickly seized the Suez Canal.

Within a few months this led to the British-French-Israeli invasion of Egypt, a temporary split between this country and Britain and France, and anger throughout the Arab world.

The administration gave three reasons for withdrawing its help: Egypt's neighbor on the Nile, where the dam would be built, hadn't agreed to the building; Egypt couldn't afford the dam and some members of Congress were opposed.

Fulbright said none of these was a valid reason, that actually the administration had begun to reconsider its offer a few weeks after it was made in late 1955.

Then what was Dulles' motive? This is a prime question. And Fulbright hasn't answered that. Was it, perhaps, to force a showdown with Russia, which had volunteered to help Egypt build the dam?

Fulbright said he couldn't be sure of the basis of the documents furnished by the State Department. But he did say this country had no reason to believe Russia wouldn't make good. (The dam hasn't been started yet.)

But then Fulbright went on to picture Dulles as a bumbler who acted without realizing the good will this country would win in the Arab world if the dam were built or the harsh reaction in Egypt if the offer to help were withdrawn.

Fulbright blamed the withdrawal for Nasser's seizure of the canal, the invasion which followed and a big increase in Soviet influence in Egypt.

Thinking It Over—

(Written for NEA Service)

Sarcasm is a crude method for putting people in their places. We use sarcasm when we want to hurt others without directly slapping them. Slurring remarks sometimes silence our opponents but they never make people feel better.

Our nasty "back handed compliments" frequently work like a boomerang. Sarcasm sails off into space, grazes the spirit of the person at whom it is aimed, and lands back in our town laps. It scars our own consciences and we feel badly.

In time we may become hardened to this backlash of the slurs which hurt others and ourselves. When we become thus calloused we lose our ability to love and to be friendly. We cut off our contact with God and our fellowmen.

It behooves all of us to seek the love of God as a remedy or a preventative of the illness of sarcasm. God loves even those we wish to hurt. He can soften the scars which we inflict but we must turn to Him.

Adolescent Boy Often Behaves Erratically

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

A request has come from a reader who said she saw an article in one of these columns on adolescence in girls, but "what about boys?"

The adolescent boy, between about 12-18, is no longer a small child nor yet a man. Adolescence in boys comes somewhat later than in girls and brings similar but also different problems. Boys, as well as their parents, should realize that this is a wholly normal stage of development.

At adolescence a boy has neither the experience nor the maturity to solve many of his new problems satisfactorily alone. The result is often shown in erratic and peculiar behavior, especially at home.

THE ADOLESCENT boy needs the sympathy and understanding of his parents and he needs adult companionship too. This does not mean the companionship of his own age should be excluded because that is not right at any age.

Peculiar behavior should be taken in stride and not too much made of occasional lapses from conventional manners. Such behavior, providing the home life has previously been satisfactory, will disappear as maturity arrives.

THERE IS NO sharp dividing line between adolescence and maturity. Sexual instincts arise during adolescence and should be discussed early and frankly with parents or physician.

Accompanying these new sensations and awareness of the world are problems with which everybody has to wrestle to a greater or lesser degree.

It is wise to allow every normal boy increasing freedom year by year, rather than to hold him in too tight control for several years and then put him entirely on his own. Many parents find such gradual adjustment to their growing sons difficult to accomplish—but they should try.

At any rate, the attitude of the parents helps to develop the independence and stable nervous system which all parents want for their sons.

I HAVE AN inquiry from Mrs. A. who wants to know where she can obtain information about sex for boys coming to manhood. She says her boy is 12. I think she would do best to write to the Bureau of Health Education, American Medical Assn., 535 North Dearborn St., Chicago 10, Ill., to obtain a list of booklets and books for adolescent boys.

Deep-Dish Fresh Peach Pie Is Fine Summer Dessert

TENDER, LUSCIOUS deep-dish fresh peach pie is an August delight. Garnish it with peach slices.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

Fresh peaches! That's a dinner call everyone waits for. Fresh peach deep-dish pie, or old-fashioned fresh peach shortcake — watch them run to the table.

Deep-Dish Fresh Peach Pie
(Yield: 6-8 servings)

Place 6 cups sliced fresh peaches in a 9½ x 6¼ x 2-inch baking dish. Combine ¾ cup sugar, 3 tablespoons flour, ¼ teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon and sprinkle over peaches. Dot with 2 tablespoons butter or margarine. Top with pastry dough (using 1 cup flour) rolled to ⅛-inch thickness. Trim, turn under and flute edge. Cut 2 or 3 gashes in crust to allow steam to escape. Bake in a preheated hot oven (425 deg. F.) about 40 minutes or until top is brown. Garnish with fresh peach slices as desired.

Fresh Peach Shortcake
(Yield: 8 shortcakes)

Sift together 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder and 3 tablespoons sugar. Cut in ½ cup butter or margarine until mixture has a crumb consistency. Combine 1 egg, beaten, and about 1/3 cup milk and stir into the dry mixture. Turn out onto a lightly floured board and knead for 20 seconds. Roll out dough to ½-inch thickness. Shape with a 3-inch biscuit cutter.

Place on an ungreased cookie sheet about 1 inch apart and bake in a preheated very hot oven (450 deg. F.) 15 to 20 minutes or until brown. Remove from baking sheet. Cool on wire rack. Carefully split in half and spread with butter or margarine while warm.

Combine 4 cups sliced fresh peaches with 1/3 cup sugar and chill at least 1 hour. Sweeten ¾ to 1 cup heavy cream, whipped, with 1 tablespoon sugar. Arrange cakes, peaches and whipped cream on individual serving plates in shortcake fashion.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Fresh or frozen fillets of sole, Creole sauce, fluffy rice, buttered fresh beans, enriched bread, butter or margarine, cucumber salad, deep-dish peach pie, coffee, tea, milk.

1,500 Chickens Die When Truck Upsets; Two Men In Hospital

An estimated 1,500 frying size chickens were killed outright or died during the next hour or two after a Missouri truck carrying 2,560 chickens turned over and was badly wrecked on West Morton avenue at 5:50 o'clock Thursday morning.

The driver, Gerald F. Bolten, 29, and a passenger in the truck, Donald Schaffer, 16, both of Loose Creek, Mo., were injured, not seriously.

Forty crates of chickens were scattered over the highway. Injured fowls fluttered, while hundreds hopped painfully away.

Being battery fed chickens, they had never touched the ground before the accident. Most of the fowls remained in the neighborhood, but it was several hours before all were rounded up.

Both men on the truck were taken to Passavant hospital in Cooney's ambulance.

Bolten was found to have sustained multiple lacerations on his body and shock.

Shaffer was treated for a small cut on one of his legs. His right wrist was X-rayed.

Prepare To Leave Hospital

After the men were given emergency treatment, they were released Thursday afternoon.

The owner of the 1956 truck, Bernard Haslag of Loose Creek, Mo., arrived in Jacksonville shortly before noon after being advised of the accident.

Patrolmen Hill and Cooney went to the place of the wreck, on Morton near Lincoln avenue. They said the accident was caused when the driver fell asleep, losing control of the vehicle.

Round Up Chickens

Chickens fanned out in all directions, and some of the early arrivals at the scene attempted to catch them. But a more organized effort was needed. Earl Williams of this city, equipped with a truck, picked up the surviving fowls and took them to the Swift & Company hatchery, 508 North Main street, where they were cared for. Several hundred dead chickens were hauled to the land fill disposal area north of the city.

Haslag, owner of the truck which was enroute to Lincoln, Ill., estimated that 1,500 chickens were killed or died later. Brummett's wrecker pulled the damaged truck to that company's garage.

Sentenced To Year At Farm For Larceny

Pleading guilty to a charge of petty larceny, Floyd Herrin, 22, of this city was sentenced in county court Thursday to one year in the Vandalia state farm and fined $500. Information had been filed previously by State's Attorney Charles J. Ryan.

The defendant was placed under arrest by city police after burglary of the Lukeman garage on West State street early, Tuesday morning. When arrested Herrin had $13.50 in nickels and quarters alleged to have been taken from the coin box of a cigaret vending machine.

NEW AAWM OFFICERS

Officers were elected Thursday morning at the business session of the 38th annual assembly of the American Association of Women Ministers.

The convention, which is attended by delegates from 14 states and Southern Rhodesia, Africa, will close at MacMurray College tonight.

Other officers chosen were Rev. Beraldine Conway, Lucasville, O., vice president; Rev. Ruth Eastburg, Linton, Ind., corresponding secretary; Rev. Elizabeth King, Cardington, O., and Rev. Nettie Senger, Fort Wayne, Ind., trustees, and Rev. Fontella Linn, Denver, editor of Woman's Pulpit.

Resolutions adopted Thursday morning called for a continuing fight against alcohol, praised the present Congress for intensifying the national spirit of religion, requested the press to refrain from giving the exploits of certain Hollywood personalities prominent space and headlines, and censured the continuation of A-bomb tests.

Another resolution against racial segregation and discrimination "of all kinds" was passed. It affirmed the original stand taken when the association was organized in 1919 and has been approved at each annual convention since then.

The resolution on the use of alcohol noted "We stand for the Christian principle of total abstinence from the use of alcoholic beverages of any kind. This stand is fundamental to our stewardship of human personality."

Asks Cooperation of Press

Another resolution "condemns prominent display of news items concerning certain individuals of the picture industry, such display cannot fail to have an adverse influence upon young minds, as well as to misrepresent American ideals to the rest of the world. We call upon the press to remove such offensive notices from prominence and refrain from the practice of repeating lurid details dragged up from the past."

The resolution commending Congress pointed out that the present Congress has strengthened the nation's religious background by the insertion of the words "under God" in the pledge of allegiance to the flag, and by the printing of the words "In God We Trust" upon all new paper money.

The resolutions against A-bomb testing and alcohol were presented by Dr. Hazel Foster of Cleveland, who spoke Thursday on the subject, "Some Women Ministers I Have Known."

Jerseyville Cracks Down On Speeders

JERSEYVILLE — During the past fiscal week, Jerseyville city police put a crimp in traffic violators in the municipality. During the period, a total of 35 arrests were made and fines imposed ranged from $5 to $100.

A motorist, reported to have been drinking, was arrested about midnight Tuesday by night police and lodged in the county jail until morning Wednesday. A complaint was signed by Wilson Schultz, state police officer of Jerseyville charging the motorist with operating a motor vehicle in the wrong lane and also disorderly conduct.

The defendant pleaded guilty before Justice A. Thatcher Wednesday morning, and a fine of $100 and costs was assessed on the driving charge and $25 and costs on the disorderly conduct charge.

Radar arrests were made during the week by state police operating in the area and fines were being assessed in conformity with the rate of speed at which the defendant was clocked by radar.

The permitted speed of pleasure cars in the rural areas generally is 65 miles per hour and state police reported Wednesday that motorists cannot travel in violation of this speed and expect to go free. Two who were clocked at 70 and 71 miles per hour were each fined $10 and costs. One clocked at 86 miles per hour was fined $25 and costs. One motorist doing better than 100 miles per hour was fined $100 and costs.

Chief of Police H. H. Blackorby repeated a former statement to the effect that the City of Jerseyville is not interested in collecting fines, but in keeping the traffic at a safe speed provided by law for municipalities.

Philip Stock Funeral Held At Arenzville

ARENZVILLE —Largely attended funeral services for Philip F. Stock were held at the Arenzville Methodist church Aug. 9, at 3:30 o'clock. The Rev. Robert Birdsell, pastor of the church officiated. William Huffman was the organist.

The many floral offerings were cared for by Mrs. Doris Peck, Mrs. Katie Huffman, Mrs. Rosemary Fischer and Mrs. Helen Bingham, and three of Mr. Stock's granddaughters, Mrs. Peggy Fernandes, Miss Yvonne Stock and Miss Linda Crawford.

Pallbearers were Victor Funk, George Huffman, Clifford Miller, Leslie Wildt, William Ring and Edwin Ommen.

Burial was in the North cemetery in Arenzville.

CWF Circle Entertained In Roodhouse

ROODHOUSE—Mrs. P. William Russell and Mrs. Ray Ferguson were co-hostesses to the Friendship Circle of the Christian Women's Fellowship at a meeting held in the church parlors Monday night.

The president, Mrs. Russell, presided over the business session. Plans were made for inviting an out of town speaker for the next meeting. Miss Louise Stevens, in charge of the study hour, used as her topic, "Our Brotherhood Agencies."

Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Reunion

A reunion of the Fitch-Haggerty families was held at Smith Lake near Meredosia, Sunday, at the summer cottage home of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Nebergall, who served as host and hostess for the gathering.

Besides the Nebergalls in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. George Reynolds and family, Virgil Nebergall, Roodhouse; Mrs. Cameron Fitch, Galesburg, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hoover and family, Carthage; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Mitchell, Avon; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pilkington and family, Piatt; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Lansdown, Clarence Haggerty, Adair; Mr. and Mrs. C. Ashland Family Attends Wedding In Charleston

ASHLAND— Mrs. Bill Quinley and daughters, Barbara and Becky Jean, went to Sullivan Friday for a few days visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Elder, and also to attend the wedding Sunday of Mrs. Quinley's brother, Darrell Elden. Mrs. Quinley's husband left Sunday morning for Sullivan.

Miss Francine Pool of Charleston became the bride of Darrell Elder, the wedding taking place at the First Christian church in Charleston. Becky Jean Quinley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Quinley, was flower girl.

Attend Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Lamkular and Donna, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Lewis and Linda, Mr. and Mrs. Dale DeGroot and sons, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Lewis Jr., and family attended the Watts-Lewis family reunion held Sunday at Nichols park, Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Senters and family moved their household goods to Springfield last week to reside in the future.

Misses Alice and Ruth Trotter are visiting in Beardstown at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Oleson.

From Ohio

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ferber and sons, Gary and David, of Columbus, Ohio, are here visiting at the home of Mrs. Ferber's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bast and family, and Mrs. Ferber's father, Lloyd Jokisch.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson returned home here the latter part of last week from Niagara Falls, where they attended a reunion of Mr. Thompson's army battalion, which is an annual affair.

Mrs. E. L. Beadles and Mrs. R. O. Beadles have returned to their respective homes here, after a several days visit in Odell with the former's mother.

Rev. and Mrs. Alf Anderson and family have returned home from an eight-day vacation at Lake Geneva, Wis.

CATFISH WILL PLAY

BEDFORD, Ky. (AP) — A. G. Spillman caught three catfish with one hook.

Fish No. 1 was snagged by Spillman's hook, then got tangled up in a piece of line being dragged about by Fish No. 2.

Both fish then got tangled in a line similarly dragged by Fish No. 3.

Spillman pulled out his catch—each catfish weighed about 6 pounds.

Gonna Get Yourself A Buck?

Hunter quotas for the 33 Illinois counties open for deer hunting were announced today by Director Glen D. Palmer of the Department of Conservation. Morgan county is among the counties where deer hunting will be permitted.

While a total of 5,200 permits has been allocated to the seven northwestern counties open for hunting, early requests for permits indicate the demand will exceed the quota.

On the other hand, Director Palmer declared that only a small number of persons has applied for permits in the 15 west central counties where 3,900 permits are available.

In the southern bloc of 11 counties, 5,300 permits will be offered and it is expected there will be fairly heavy demand for these as the deadline for the drawing approaches.

These quotas are for shotgun hunting permits and do not affect the number of bow hunters in any way. Applicants should include the county of their choice, and a second choice on all requests for applications.

Drawings will be held after Aug. 31 for counties where the demand for permits is in excess of the quota, and successful applicants will be notified by the Department permit office. Permits for both shotgun and bow and arrow hunting cost $5. Applications must be made with the Deer Permit Office, Room 106, State Office Building, Springfield, Ill.

Currency Trouble Develops From Value Of Franc

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—France's tinkering with the value of its franc in foreign trade has opened up the whole Pandora's box of world currency troubles and blocked commerce. And it has brought some quick reaction today from both officials and civilian traders.

1. Washington officials say there isn't a chance that the U. S. dollar will be revalued again—the last time that was done legally was on Jan. 31, 1934, when the dollar was devalued sharply as an anti-depression measure. (Its market value has slipped badly since—but that's another matter, inflation).

2. The British—in trouble themselves with a somewhat shaky pound and a widening trade gap—assure all and sundry that they won't cut the pound's official rate. But they believe Germany should raise the value of the mark and thus give the British and French a better shake in the fight for world markets.

3. West Germany's economic minister, admitting that the mark is worth more now than the official rate, proposes instead that the U. S. call a world conference at which all currencies could be revalued. As a first step he favors pushing all currencies out into the cold world of reality and letting supply and demand in the open market set their true values.

4. Foreign trade circles here doubt if the partial devaluation of the franc will have much effect on the two-way trade between this country and France — whatever turmoil it may cause among France's European neighbors.

For trade and tourist purposes France has dropped the franc from its former official rate of 350 to the U. S. Dollar to 420 to the dollar, which is closer to the real, or black market, value. New York bankers looked this over for a day or so and have now set a going rate of exchange here of 416 2-3 francs to the dollar.

The National Foreign Trade Council points out that "imports from the United States have been rather rigorously controlled in any event and held for the most part to essentials." It foresees little change.

Due largely to heavy emergency coal and oil shipments to France in the first four months of this year, and perhaps to some extent to French businessmen trying to beat the devaluation, we sent France nearly 250 million dollars worth of goods, compared with 155 million dollars in the first four months of 1956.

Recent reimposition of quantitative import controls by France would cut imports from U. S. sharply the rest of the year, foreign traders believe.

More French wheat may be sold in world markets as a result of the latest move, but that is a government problem here as well as there, thanks to price dropping, and American farmers will scarcely note the difference.

Our imports from France may be little affected because internal inflation in France is unchecked and the lower price at which France could sell its products here might not seem as interesting to the French manufacturer as the continually higher prices he is getting at home, where demand is strong.

Bankers here see little chance of a general revaluation of currencies after a free-for-all shakedown as West Germany suggests.

Gibson City Family Visits In Patterson

PATTERSON — Mr. and Mrs. Lester Dawdy and family, of Gibson City, are spending a few days vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dawdy, and daughter Linda. He is employed by Western Electric and will report back to Champaign when his vacation is over.

Mrs. Maude Johnson left Monday morning for a weeks visit with relatives in Granite City.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Dawdy and sons, Jimmie and David, of near Barrow, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Jessie Dawdy, of Patterson, left Monday morning for a vacation to the Yellowstone National Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl McEvers and son, Stanley, are spending this week at the Lake of the Ozarks in Missouri.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Taylor visited Sunday in St. Louis with his mother, Mrs. Lucy Taylor, who is a patient at a nursing home there, and also called on Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Brant and family.

Miss Bertha Taylor, residing north of town, was taken ill Saturday and is under the care of Dr. N. J. Bucklin, of Roodhouse.

Mrs. Alta Young of Roodhouse and Mrs. Pearl Seely of near White Hall were Sunday dinner guests of Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Houghton. Afternoon visitors were Mrs. Forrest Rutledge, Mrs. Jack Shankel and daughter, Jan, Mrs. June Blevins and Miss Leta Miller, all of Granite City. They all called on Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilkinson in the afternoon.

Mrs. Bertha Nicholson has been ill at her home here this week.

Mrs. Anna McClenning received word this week of the serious illness of her son-in-law, Russell Karnes, of Kincaid.

Bradley Bacon, of Pekin, who visited his grandmother, Mrs. Harold Wilkinson, a few days the first of the week, returned home Friday morning with his mother, Mrs. Robert Bacon, and son, Robert Dean, who had attended the picnic here Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Pence and son and daughter, and Mrs. Lucille Pence and son Stevie, all of Liberty, Mo., visited from Tuesday night until Friday morning with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pence and daughters, and attended the Patterson picnic.

David Shafer visited a few days the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Meyer and family, near Walkerville and Ricky Shafer visited with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Simonds, near Carrollton.

Robt. D. Gridley Engaged To Wed; Naperville Girl

VIRGINIA — Friends have received announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Betty Joanne Henke and Robert Davis Gridley on Saturday evening, Aug. 31 at 7:30 o'clock.

Miss Henke is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Henke of Naperville, and Mr. Gridley is the son of Mrs. Vilas Kuhlman, of Downers Grove. He spent his childhood in Virginia and is a grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Biddlecome, of Virginia.

The marriage will be solemnized in the First Evangelical United Brethren church, in Naperville. Following the ceremony, a reception will be held in the church parlors.

Mrs. Luella Wolff left Monday for Galva where she was called by the death of Fred Hulstrom, an old family friend.

Mrs. Jim Davis and daughter, Janet, are spending the week with relatives in Aurora.

Attend Picnic Dinner

The members of the Providence Household Science Club enjoyed a picnic dinner at noon Thursday at the Virginia Waterworks Park. Bingo furnished the entertainment, for the afternoon when Mrs. Jesse Mefford and Mrs. Edgar Thompson made high score and Miss Margaret Mefford was low. Mrs. Charles Burnham of Belleville was a guest of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Williams and son, Robbie, and Miss Frances Lang of Long Beach, Calif., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Lang. Mrs. Williams and Miss Lang are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lang.

Attend Funeral Rites

Arch, Harley, Jesse and Miss Margaret Mefford were in Jacksonville, Wednesday evening, where they met with the family of Mrs. Lottie Gish, whose funeral was held last Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McDowell and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn McDowell, of Pekin, attended funeral services in this city, Friday, for J. Edward McDowell.

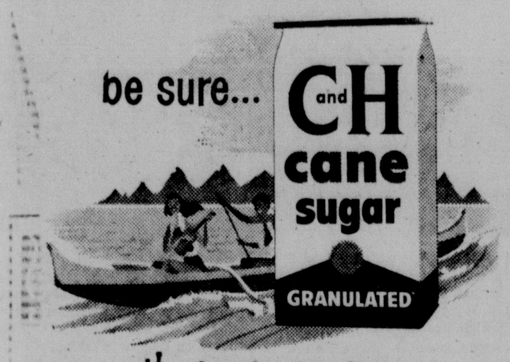

Mr. and Mrs. Romus Trotter, of Peoria, were Saturday and Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hunt. They were joined on Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morgan and family, of New Canton, and the group attended the Illinois State Fair.

WATERED TEA

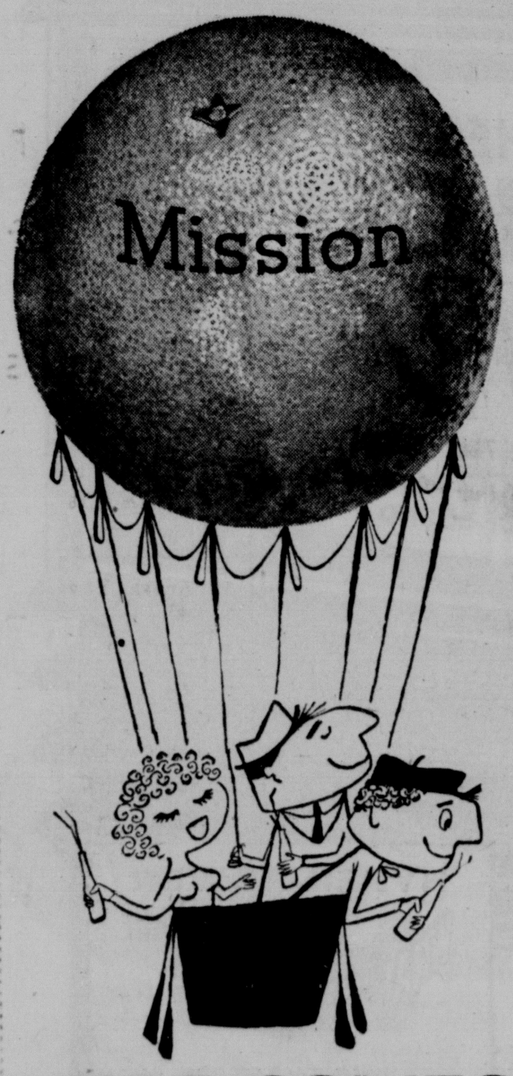

TEA, S. D. (AP)—Residents of Tea are going to have water.

Voters in this small community gave overwhelming support to a $33,000 bond issue for a water system in a recent election. Individual wells and cisters are the present source of the town's water supply.

Wealth No Longer Rules Newport But Society, Money Still Make It Spectacular

NEW PORT, R. I. (AP) — It has been the practice of writers more sophisticated than this one to fly to Newport, to sniff the sea breeze, to hold up a tea crumpet and see the way it crumbles and then, eyes moist with crocodile tears, to compose a requiem for the death of social Newport, the faded rose of American capitalism.

But for this simple suburbanite visiting the Rhode Island playland where President Eisenhower will vacation this summer, there was still much to be awed by. Perhaps enough to awe a president. And, carrying this speculation to a reckless extreme, it might even be said that Newport is one of the few places left to awe a Texas millionaire since nothing humbles new money more than old money. Made before high taxes.

True, things have changed since the turn of the century when a man earning a million dollars could live like a millionaire, when the Newport yachts were a block long, liveried footmen held gold candelabra on every sixth step of a grand staircase, diamond necklaces could sink the national debt and Newport hostesses could entertain 100 at dinner without calling in extra help.

For those slavishly devoted to the old days, social Newport obviously has slipped. But for this contemporary student of split-level housing developments and 60 by 100 foot lots, the magnificence that remains is dazzling enough. The fact that about 75 per cent of the huge summer houses remain in private hands is more impressive than the 25 per cent which have slipped away.

Not all but many acres of lawn are still manicured to within a quarter-inch of their velvety life. Formal gardens, outdoor statuary, sparkling fountains and ancient beech and elm trees sweeping the ground like graceful hoop skirts are still treated with the care reserved for the family silver. And, in social Newport, if you are so gauche as to ask how many rooms a given house has, you still must be prepared for only an estimate.

The question was put to "Henry," butler for the past three decades at Chateau Sur Mer, and he answered, without a quiver, "50 or 60 rooms."

Here, in Victorian splendor midst walls of damask and carved Italian paneling, ornate statuary and family portraits painted by John Singleton Copley, lives Miss Edith Wetmore, 87. Her father was a Rhode Island governor and U.S. senator.

The last of her line, Miss Wetmore lives alone in the house attended by a staff of 15. Because of her advanced age, she spends most of her time in her rooms. She descends occasionally for meals or to work a jigsaw puzzle on a card table tucked away in one corner of a magnificent library.

If Miss Wetmore dines alone, she is served by Henry, who wears black tie, winged collar, cutaway and striped trousers before 6 p.m. and thereafter tails and white tie, of course. If there is more than one for dinner, Henry is assisted by a footman in black livery with the Wetmore family crest shining from gold buttons.

Mrs. Louis Bruguiere, whom many regard as the social leader of Newport today, is a striking, blue-haired woman in her 60s. She represents a gracious combination of new and old Newport. Always smartly turned out, she frequently charters a plane for an afternoon of shopping in New York.

Mrs. Bruguiere presides over "Wakehurst," a stone mansion modeled after an English castle the English nobility can no longer afford.

The mistress of Wakehurst recently entertained 60 for dinner honoring Capt. Alan Villiers of the Mayflower II. On arrival each male guest was handed a discreet card by the butler telling him which lady to escort to dinner.

Doris Duke owns a big stone place overlooking the ocean called "Rough Point." In June, all the furniture, chandeliers, drapes, tapestries, fireplaces and wood paneling were removed to the Duke estate in New Jersey. In July, all this was suddenly moved back at a cost of thousands of dollars.

Why this sudden expensive change of heart? Nobody in town really knows except that Miss Duke is now summering in Newport.

But picturing Newport only in terms of its most spectacular elements—society and wealth—is unfair to this historic old island town whose permanent population is about 40,000 to which the summer residents add only another 5,000.

Bailey's Beach may still rank as the holy of holies among exclusive beach clubs, but there are many other beaches and facilities for the average man. Wealth no longer commands the town. In 1920, the rich summer people paid 55 per cent of the town's taxes; last year, only 18 per cent.

"In the old days," says Editor Emil Jemail of the Newport News, "it was unheard of for townspeople to be invited to the big summer houses. Now, not all the social barriers are down, but many townspeople not in the social register do get invited to the big houses."

Newport resents that its proud history frequently has been obscured by the splendor of great wealth. The town was an important seaport before the revolution. It still has more than 300 colonial structures, many restored, others hiding behind modern facades of neon and chrome along narrow Thames Street.

Newport, too, is still a mecca for yachting, fishing and tennis fans.

Newport has learned to survive much—the Revolution, the War of 1812, high taxes and more recently the annual jazz festival.

Four years ago the town was rocked by thousands of non-Newport types coming for the first jazz hoedown sponsored by Mrs. Louis Lorrilard. Since then Newport has learned to regain its composure after this yearly blowout of hepcats.

Newport, of course, is excited by the impending presidential visit and town boosters are predicting it will boom tourist trade. Even Bailey's Beach, which as recently as 1949 kept a Supreme Court justice waiting a half hour in a corridor until a sponsor could be found for him, was quick to extend an invitation to the Eisenhowers.

While in Newport, the Eisenhowers will live on Coasters Harbor Island in a white stucco house normally occupied by the naval base commander. It is graced by broad lawns in the front with a sweeping view of Naragansett Bay and a lovely flagstone terrace and rose garden in the rear made private by a 10-foot hedge.

Unlike many other hosts in Newport, the United States Navy can be explicit about the size of the boss' house. It has four bath rooms, two enclosed sun parlors and a two-car garage. In all, it has precisely, not approximately, 12 rooms.

BULLDOZED BULL

TAYLORSVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Floyd McCall's bull turned up missing after a bulldozer cleared a large area on his farm and piled the brush in high mounds.

Three days later, McCall heard a weak bellow from inside one of the tall piles and investigated.

He found a very hungry and very angry bull.

DUKED!

HONOLULU (AP)—Five youngsters were quickly nabbed by police after they broke into a parked car.

The car belonged to Sheriff Duke Kahanmoku, former Olympic swimming champion. The loot was a gold and ruby-inlaid sheriff's badge.

Sweater Fashions For College

There's A Type For Every Girl

BY GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK —(NEA)—There's a sweater type for everybody in the feminine population, starting with wee tots and working right through the Thelma Ritter cardigan and the glamor girl stuff.

There's the country look, the very fancy evening look, the campus look and the sophisticated city look.

This fall, you can pretty well pick the length, type, color, weight and weave that you favor to say nothing of the stuff from which the sweater's knitted.

The sweater turns into a costume top for autumn. It's worn as an overblouse. It's a neat little jacket. When it gets fancy, it's touched with velvet, embroidery, lace, satin or chiffon.

We show here two sweaters utterly unlike each other, yet both sound fashion. For campus wear, there's the bulky cable-knit wool cardigan in white, nipped at the waistline. It can be worn day or evening.

Double-breasted jacket with brass buttons (right) is in a heavy ribbed-stitched wool. It has the longer length, longer sleeve and notched lapel collar. Both designs are by Rosanna.

RECEIVES WORD OF DEATH SATURDAY OF MRS. PLUMMER

VIRGINIA—Mrs. A. J. Samuell has received word of the death of Mrs. Rose Teague Plummer, who died at her home in Evanston, Saturday.

She was the wife of the late Lloyd Plummer, and the family resided in Virginia many years ago, where Mr. Plummer was in business.

She is survived by two daughters, Jane and Priscilla, of Evanston. She was a sister of Mrs. S. C. Hunt and Mrs. Lydia Dawes, both of Jacksonville, and who preceded her in death.

Graveside services were held in Bloomington Monday morning.

NAMED "CENT"

The name "cent" for the smallest U. S. coin was suggested by a Revolutionary patriot, Gouverneur Morris, in 1782. He proposed a monetary system in which 144 cents would be worth a dollar.

PREVENTS COAGULATION

The lamprey feeds on fish by injecting into the fish's wound a chemical which prevents coagulation of the blood. This enables the lamprey to gorge himself with his round sucker-mouth.

WOODEN NUTMEGS

Connecticut got its nickname of "Nutmeg State" because of a legend that wooden nutmegs once were made there and sold abroad as genuine.

Opal Hayes Captures Top Cook Title Again

Miss Opal Hayes of Franklin, perennial winner of the "Best Cook of Today" at the Illinois State Fair, captured the same title this year.

Her mother, Mrs. Lola Hayes, placed second this year in the "Cook of Yesterday" contest. Last year Mrs. Hayes won first, but the rules prohibit any cook from winning the top title two years in a row.

Miss Hayes won 94 ribbons; 45 blue ones, 34 reds and 15 whites.

West Central Illinois cooks again carried off most of the ribbons and premiums offered by the culinary department. Mrs. Eleanor Cook of Griggsville was named runner-up in the Cook of Today contest.

Mrs. Anna Cummings of Chambersburg entered a pieced quilt in the "Work of Ladies 65 Years or Older" contest and won the blue ribbon.

Wayne Geiss of Chandlerville won a blue ribbon with a pencil drawing. Nancy Anderson, also of Chandlerville, won many prizes with her entries in the textile department.

Adella D. Hofing of Pleasant Plains was also a consistent winner in this division.

Mrs. A. D. Millard of Beardstown won second in rugs and needlepoint, crocheted.

Mrs. Anna Cummings of Chambersburg won a blue ribbon with a quilt and also won several other awards in the textile division. Mrs. William Crawford, also of Chambersburg, placed second with a linen handkerchief.

Miss Juanita Coultas of Jacksonville entered an afternoon dress that took first prize. She also won several other premiums with her entries.

Winners in the amateur art contest included Norma Lee Graves of Jacksonville and Marie Houlette, Greenfield.

Illinois Pastor Climbs Top Peak In All 48 States

RED LODGE, Mont. (AP) — The Rev. F.W. McDermott, 59-year-old Springfield, Ill., minister, has fulfilled his long ambition to climb the highest point in each of the 48 states. The last step, he said Wednesday, was the toughest.

McDermott passed through Red Lodge late Wednesday on his way home after climbing 12,850 - foot Granite Peak in southern Montana —the last step in a series of climbs extanding over several years.

"This was the toughest climb of them all," he said.

McDermott climbed 13,785-foot Gannett Peak in northwestern Wyoming last week and 12,665-foot Mount Borah in central Idaho about a week earlier.

TOO MUCH REALISM

HONOLULU (AP)—The staff at Mohalu Hospital proved it knows what to do in case of fire. A fire drill was called by hospital authorities.

One nurse sounded the alarm. Another well-trained nurse did her job—she called the Fire Department.

The firemen who responded asked for a little less realism in future drills.

S. KOREA HAS ANNIVERSARY

SEOUL (AP)—South Korea today celebrated its 9th anniversary as a republic and its 12th year of independence with a display of U. S.-equipped military might. Troops paraded on Seoul's main streets under the whine of jet fighter planes. President Syngman Rhee pleaded "We shall be able to maintain a self-supporting economy in the near future."

XXVII

BLANCHARD knew we didn't have much chance of finding Peterson but I could see where he might want to get out of Blue Springs for a while. He had good reason to be sick of the sight of the town.

Blanchard said, "You got any objections to looking over Clements' place?"

"No."

We turned off the trail half an hour later and hit for high ground a mile east of the river. The north ridge of Buffalo Basin came up against the sky as we moved out of the bottom land and then the buildings of Clements' place showed against the prairie near the river. Blanchard got down and squatted and pulled a long stem of grass and chewed on it. I got down beside him and waited for him to say what he had on his mind. Men moved around the buildings a mile away and the yard was jammed with wagons. That was ordinary; I wondered what Blanchard expected to see.

I pulled my rifle out of the scabbard. "You reckon this rifle would carry?"

"Sure. You might even hurt somebody with a lucky shot."

I laid the sights on the Clements' cabin and then followed a man carrying a pail away from the door. He was a black dot in the sights. Blanchard didn't move or say anything. He knew I wasn't fool enough to shoot.

I said, "Could be that Peterson went out to talk to the Clements."

"He can talk to the Clements if he wants. Might help if he did."

We waited half an hour or so and I didn't get more than half a dozen words out of Blanchard. Finally he said, "Pike, sure looks like they're getting ready to hunt buffalo. Just like nothing happened and nothing will."

We mounted and Blanchard moved out north and I followed, the sun now strong and warm on my back. Blanchard's bay had been fighting him to run and finally Blanchard waved and let him go hard for half a mile and my gelding rambled along behind. I liked the wild feeling of the air flying past my face and the horse moving fast under me but I kept a sharp eye for prairie dog holes and hoped the gelding was doing the same. Then Blanchard pulled the bay down to an easy lope and we stayed in that gait until we hit the last long climb before the river and the horses were willing to break down to a reaching walk.

• • •

WE had almost hit the crest when I heard it. It was more like wind than anything, a thin rustling noise like a spring breeze through the trees down at the river. But the air was still and there wasn't a tree for half a mile. Blanchard heard it then, too, and pulled up at the crest of the slope and waited for me. The sound changed when I came up to Blanchard. It was deeper, like it came up out of the ground. Then above it rose a sound that was thin at first, then grew until it was hoarse and rolling and coming up stronger all the time. I knew it then.

Buffaloes!

At first, just a long, thick line of dust hung between yellow prairie and the sky. Then I could see the dark, moving ribbon of the first great herd storming over the grass, heading into the wind, making a straggling dusty run to the river.

We sat there and watched a lot longer than was safe, the horses stirring under us, trying to edge down the slope toward the water. I've never seen the buffaloes come that way before but I'd heard the oldtimers tell about it. Always I'd seen them come in little bunches at first, grazing along as easy as you please, the red-yellow calves frisking around the cows, then running hard down the slope to the river. Or one night the prairie would be clear and the next morning they would be there by the thousands east of town.

The lead animals took on shape as they rambled along, their great shaggy heads down and their thick humped shoulders pushing forward. The sound was so strong now that it came from all sides, from the ground and from the sky and from the wind. Back from the charging leaders stretched the biggest herd I'd ever seen, spreading thick like a waving brown forest over the prairie. The lead bulls, tails in the air, black tongues hanging out a foot, broke over the hill and roared down the slope to the river, pushed from behind, here and there one stumbling and being swallowed up by the hundreds following.

• • •

I HAD the feeling then that the prairie belonged to the buffaloes. Me and Blanchard had no business there. Looking south along our ridge, I saw a lot of other folks, some mounted, some afoot, who had come out from Blue Springs for the sight. A big stub horn bull stood straight across the river from us, up to his knees in mud, chewing his cud, his long whiskers hanging into the water. I took out my Sharps and checked the sights and laid them on the bull, just back of the foreleg and about a third of the way up the body. A good lung shot . . .

I cleared my throat. "Don't hardly seem right. Not just to test out a new gun."

Blanchard put his hand on my shoulder. "A great animal, Pike. Some say he's stupid. I say he's stubborn."

Harry Grayson s SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

YAKIMA, Wash. — (NEA) — It is preposterous — just as preposterous as the fact that Pete Rademacher, amateur, is boxing Floyd Patterson, heavyweight champion, on Aug. 22. There are people all over this rich, busy country who feel Rademacher is going to obliterate the champion.

This is "The Fruit Bowl of the Nation" and you'd expect the apple growers and packers around here to be sane, factual people.

So Paul Creighton, a meat packer in Grandview — Pete's home town — starts your day by saying calmly, "This fight will be a replica of the first Billy Conn-Joe Louis bout. Rademacher is 25 pounds heavier and after being annoyed for a number of rounds will whack Patterson out like you hit a fly with a folded newspaper.

"If Pete loses, I'll have to move out of town. I have the movie of Pete knocking out that Russian at Melbourne. When Pete hit him, he put the guy's head right over on his shoulder."

The mere fact that Rademacher is going to fight is enough to confuse a mind conditioned to thinking about fights for over 40 years. But when people start saying he is going to win, your head gives a busy signal every time you try to think the thing out.

* * *

FROM TIETON IN THE north, where Rademacher was raised on an apple orchard, to Grandview in the south, where his family now makes its home, opinion is largely the same. They tell you that Pete is not only big, strong and a hard hitter, but smart. "He wouldn't have taken the match unless he believed he had a chance." is the argument. The fact that he has never had a professional fight doesn't seem to make a bit of difference.

There are notes of caution, of course, but only one dissenting vote could be found, Frank H. Cubberley, a fruit packer in Tieton, puts the finger on why the match has been so severely criticized around the world.

"I haven't seen Pete fight since he was a student at Yakima Junior College," says Cubberley. "But I can't forget that he was a big clumsy kid as slow as molasses. I can't vision his having increased his speed enough to beat a good champion like Patterson."

Otherwise, Rademacher — the All-American boy of the Yakima Valley — is rated a cinch around here. So much so that 5,000 rooters are going to cross the Cascade Mountains to see him win.

Gus Shinn, physical director of the Yakima YMCA where Rademacher broke in, believes this. "He can beat Patterson. We never had a harder hitter around here," he stresses.

* * *

EVEN BABE HOLLINGBERY, the long time Washington State College football coach who is now a hop broker in Yakima, gives Rademacher a big chance. "Anything can happen when two guys start slugging. And Pete can belt."

The blind faith of Rademacher's friends and relations is based to a great extent on six fights with Bill Waltman, five of them at the Yakima YMCA.

"Waltman could punch, too, and everybody turned out for these fights," recalls Bob Marley, a Tieton fruit grower. "Waltman hit Rademacher plenty. That's how I know Pete can take it. Patterson has never been hit and Rademacher will hit him.

"I was interested in Pete's behavior and intelligence more than his fighting," says Herman C. Hopf, Yakima Junior College dean of men. "I was surprised when a young man of his culture and talent turned professional, but rest assured that this fight will not be a walkaway for Patterson."

Rademacher was chosen sportsman of the year in so many places after flattening the Russian weightlifter that his friends and relations seem to believe it is a permanent thing.

Rookie Catcher Leads Hitting, Giants Win 9-4

NEW YORK (AP)—Rookie catcher Valmy Thomas walloped a home run and triple Thursday as the New York Giants came from behind twice to defeat the Dodgers 9-4 in the rubber of their three-game series.

The little catcher drove in four runs with his two long blows. The homer came in the second inning, after Gail Harris singled, and put the Giants in front 3-2.

Thomas' triple came with two on in the eighth with the Giants behind 4-3. Don Bessent was on the mound, having just replaced loser Don Drysdale after he had walked Daryl Spencer and yielded a third single to Harris.

The Giants used four pitchers with Ramon Monzant, who hurled from the third through the sixth, getting the victory. Monzant replaced Mike McCormick in the third after Brooklyn had tied the score 3-3-.

Home run—New York, Thomas.

Home Run Happy Athletics Crush Detroit Tigers

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics were home run happy Thursday as Woody Held, Billy Martin and Hec Lopez blasted Detroit pitching with four-baggers in a 7-2 victory over the Tigers.

Held's homer in the first inning sealed a four-run outburst that spelled defeat for Detroit's ace pitcher, Jim Bunning. The tall righthander had won 14 and absorbed his fifth loss Thursday.

Martin's homer was a solo shot off reliefer Lou Sleater in the seventh and Lopez did the same in the eighth.

Big Sixth Inning Gives Indians 5-4 Decision

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians scored five runs in the sixth inning, including a grand slam home run by shortstop Chico Carrasquel, to beat the Chicago White Sox 5-4 Thursday and salvage the finals of a three-game series.

The victory, which ended a six-game losing streak for the Tribe, was Don Mossi's ninth against seven losses.

Carrasquel's homer came after Jack Harshman had forced in Cleveland's first run by walking Rocky Colavito with the bases loaded.

All the runs were unearned.

With one out in the sixth, consecutive singles were hit by Gene Woodling and Dick Williams. Vic Wertz was safe on a fumble by Walt Dropo and Bob Avila struck out. Colavito walked to force in Woodling and Carrasquel's homer followed.

The White Sox scored their first run in the second inning on an error by Carrasquel and two singles.

The Sox added another run in the fifth on a hit batsman, a sacrifice and a single. Chicago's last run came in the eighth on two singles and a sacrifice fly.

Chicago	011 010 010—4	7 2
Cleveland	000 005 00x—5	7 2

Harshman, Staley (7) and Lollar; Mossi and Hegan. L—Harshman.

Home run — Cleveland, Carrasquel.

Score's Removal From Disabled List Postponed

CLEVELAND (AP)—Pitcher Herb Score will not be removed from the disabled list Monday as planned, the Cleveland Indians announced Thursay.

The club said Wednesday night that the 24-year-old lefthander, who was hit in the right eye by a line drive in a night game here May 7, would be placed on the active list when pitcher Kenny Kuhn's bonus period runs out.

In announcing the change in plans, general manager Hank Greenberg said, "Herb isnt ready to pitch yet."

"If we put him on the active list and then another pitcher gets hurt we'll be in even worse shape than we are now," he explained. "With Kenny gone and Herb remaining on the disabled list, we'll have an open spot in case we have to bring up somebody."

Four Homers Power Braves To 8-1 Win

CINCINNATI (AP)— Four home runs, including two by Hank Aaron, Thursday night helped power Milwaukee's Braves to the tenth victory in a row—an 8-1 trouncing of Cincinnati's Redlegs—and an 8½ game National League lead. Warren Spahn, an old Redleg troublemaker, hurled an eight-hitter.

Redleg starter Hal Jeffcoat lasted only until the fifth inning flurry that produced the first three Braves markers. But his successors—four in all—fared little better as Milwaukee pounded out 12 hits.

Spahn, who hasn't lost to the Reds since last September, won his fifth straight game and Thursday night's victory gave him a 44-14 lifetime record against Cincinnati — his best against any team.

The high flying Braves, winning their 14th game in 16 with the Reds, got a boost in the league scramble Thursday afternoon when the two closest aspirants—for the lead—St. Louis and Brooklyn—each lost a game.

Aaron, currently leading the league in hitting, fattened his season home run total to 34 with two four-base blasts.

The only Redleg run came in the second when Don Hoak rapped a hard double down the left field line, Aaron muffed a pop fly by Roy McMillan and Johnny Temple belted a run-scoring single.

Milwaukee	400 010 210—8	2 2
Cincinnati	010 000 000—1	8 0

Home runs—Milwaukee, Aaron (2), Mathews, Hazle.

Giants' Board To Consider Shift To West Monday

NEW YORK (AP) — President Horace Stoneham of the New York Giants said Thursday his club's board of directors will meet Monday to consider San Francisco's offer to shift the National League baseball franchise to that city.

Stoneham declined to predict the outcome of the meeting but there was every indication that the board of directors will approve the transfer.

Stoneham is anxious to move and, while it is understood there still is some opposition from minority stockholders, these differences are expected to be ironed out at Monday's session.

In fact, so confident is Horace that he will be given full support, he already has planned a trip to San Francisco "soon after the meeting" to further check details connected with the transfer of the franchise and inspect the Seals Stadium, where the Giants are expected to play in 1958.

Only last week Stoneham was quoted as telling club stockholders: "When we get to San Francisco, we'll make money. I can almost guarantee a net profit of $200,000 to $300,000 a year." The club reportedly made about $20,000 last year.

The San Francisco offer includes city construction of a 45,000-capacity stadium to be ready by 1959 at a cost of eight million dollars and a rental fee figured at 7 per cent of gross attendance each year.

Stoneham, who had told reporters last July 18 that he would recommend to the board the move to San Francisco as soon as he received a "satisfactory proposition," announced last week he had received a "very firm and fair offer" from Mayor Christopher from that city.

Charles Johnson, executive sports editor of the Minneapolis Tribune, whose city had hoped to lure the Giants there, quoted Stoneham as saying:

"The San Francisco offer to house the club is so fabulous that I wouldn't even ask Minneapolis to meet it."

Trump Hanover Wins Abe Lincoln 14 Class Trot

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Trump Hanover had to go an extra heat Thursday to win the Abe Lincoln 14 class trot while the Hambletonian winter book favorite, Hickory Smoke, could do no better than third.

However, Gold Worthy stole the show on the Grand Circuit card at the Illinois State Fair. Driven by Wayne Smart, Gold Worthy won the Ann Rutledge 12 class pace with miles of 1:58 3-5 and 1:58 4-5—fastest heats for aged pacers of the season.

Arden Homestead's Trump Hanover won the first heat of the Abe Lincoln in 2:02 3-5 and Castleton Farm's Dean Worthy took the second in 2:02. Hickory Smoke was fourth in the first mile and third in the second.

Trump Hanover won the final heat, limited to half a mile, in :58 2-5 in a spirited sprint with Dean Worthy.

Rosburg Shoots 64 To Take Lead In Golf Tourney

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Bob Rosburg of San Francisco shot an 8-under-par 64 to take the lead in the $24,000 St. Paul Open Golf Tournament Thursday as the nation's leading pros gave Keller's par-72 one of its worst beatings in years.

Rosburg held a one-stroke lead over Howie Johnson of Houston, Tex., a former St. Paul player who once took the Minnesota publinx championship. Johnson finished with a 65.

Grouped at 66 were Ken Venturi, San Francisco; Peter Thomson, Melbourne, Australia; George Bayer, Los Angeles; and Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla.

Rosburg, playing one of his finest rounds of the year, hit 16 greens, was in the rough only once and hit one trap. He didn't have a 3-putt green.

Knotted with 67s, 5 under par, were Paul O'Leary, Culver City, Calif.; Gay Brewer, Cincinnati; Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill.; Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex.; Don Fairfield, Casey, Ill., and Bill Trombley, Dallas, Tex.

Defending champion Mike Souchak of Grossingers, N. Y., was in the jam of 11 players at 68.

NL Phillies Rap AL Senators 4-2 In Benefit Game

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies, of the National League, beat the American League's Washington Senators 4-2 Thursday night in a game played for the benefit of the Junior Baseball Federation of Philadelphia.

The affair, unusually well played considering there was nothing at stake except professional pride, saw the Phillies pile up their winning runs off side-arming Ted Abernathy in the first two innings, giving rookie Don Cardwell a lead he held to the end.

The 9,892 fans got a treat in the ninth when veteran Andy Seminick, the Phillies' coach, took over the catching.

CHICAGO U. SENDS MESSAGE TO STAGG

CHICAGO (AP)— The University of Chicago where Amos Alonzo Stagg coached the Maroons to fame sent a congratulatory message to the "Grand Old Man" Thursday celebrating his 95th birthday Friday. Stagg lives in Stockton, Calif.

The school's Board of Trustees passed a formal resolution directing the greeting be sent Stagg in recognition of "tremendous contribution to the University of Chicago and to athletics."

Haney, Tebbetts Refuse To Concede Braves Have One Way Ticket To Pennant

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two of the persons most immediately concerned refuse to concede that the Milwaukee Braves, despite a nine-game winning streak and a 7½-game lead, have a one-way ticket to the National League pennant.

Neither Manager Fred Haney of the front-running Braves nor skipper Birdie Tebbetts of the Cincinnati Redlegs cares to dispute the fact that the Braves are presently the hottest team in baseball. No one wants to talk down Milwaukee's production of 83 runs in their 9-game victory string.

But, as for conceding that the Milwaukeeans are well on their way to a pennant, no dice. Both pointed to the schedule that Thursday showed 42 more games to play.

Haney sized up the situation this way:

"We have only one job and that is to play the schedule and try to win every game, one at a time."

Said Tebbetts:

"This is a game of momentum and right now the Braves are traveling on momentum. They can't do anything wrong, but that doesn't mean it will always be that way or that they can't be beat.

"The Cubs beat the Braves didn't they? Maybe one of these days the other clubs will start doing it, too—even ours."

The Milwaukeeans really started to roll after the mid-season break for the All-Star game. Since then they have won 26 of 34, 17 of their last 21 games and have broken the air-tight senior circuit race wide open on the current road trip.

Winding up their last home stand, they took 2 out of 3 from the Dodgers and 3 out of 3 from Cincinnati. Moving to St. Louis, they bounced the second - place Cardinals three straight, then came here and continued their winning ways against the Redlegs who, up to Thursday they had beaten 13 out of 15 for the season.

Friday the Braves to back to Milwaukee to a wildly enthusiastic welcome and a four-game series with the Cardinals for which all tickets long ago were sold out.

Cardinals' 8 Game Losing Streak Longest Since '47

CHICAGO (AP) — What a difference nine days makes.

On Aug. 6 St. Louis had the pennant fever. Their Cardinals were leading the National League.

Thursday the Cardinals went down to their ninth straight defeat, losing 4-1 to the Chicago Cubs, for their worst losing streak in a decade. Manager Fred Hutchinson and his shell-shocked associates were discussing the reasons.

"Our guys aren't mad enough yet," Coach Terry Moore, a member of the old Gas House Gang, observed after the Redbirds dropped No. 8 Wednesday to the Chicago Cubs.

He couldn't have been speaking of the bewildered and angry Hutchinson.

"I worried about our pitching and about our fielding," Hutch said, "but I never thought I'd have to worry about our hitting."

He didn't hide his disgust when the last three Cardinals to go to bat Wednesday — Hobie Landrith and pinch batters Wally Moon and Ken Boyer — struck out against rookie Dick Drott of the Cubs.

Hutchinson said he had no intention of belittling the 21-year-old strikeout artist, but added:

"I'd still be willing to bet he couldn't strike me out right now. We've got some hitters who act as though it's illegal to throw a breaking ball."

Outfielders Moon and Boyer, benched after they alternated in permitting fly balls to drop for doubles as the Cards lost to Chicago 6-2 Tuesday, have been especially disappointing at the plate.

A year ago Moon was batting .330 and Boyer .310. Before Thursday's game Moon was .278 and Boyer .269.

Mt. Sterling Invitational Schedule

The Mt. Sterling Softball Invitational will commence August 18 and continue through August 25.

Egbers Trailer of Quincy and the Havana nine will open the tournament Sunday evening, August 18, at 7 o'clock. This will be followed with Colchester playing the Naval Reserve team at 8:15 p.m. The Jacksonville Redlegs will meet the Quincy Moose in the nightcap at 9:30 p.m.

The winners of the first two games will play each other in the opener Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. At 9:15 o'clock that same evening Ed's Tavern of Rushville will oppose the winner of the Redleg-Moose tilt.

Macomb Falstaff and Rushville will open the activities Monday evening at 8 o'clock, and Merkel Hardware will meet West Point in the nightcap.

The Mt. Sterling Merchants will meet the winner of the Macomb Falstaff-Rushville tilt at 8 p.m. Thursday, August 22. Quincy Supply faces the Merkel Hardware-West Point winner at 9:15 p.m. Thursday.

The winners of Wednesday night's games will meet at 8 o'clock Saturday. Thursday night's victors will fight it out at 9:15 p.m. Saturday, August 24. The winners of these two contests will fight for first place at 8:45 p.m. Sunday. Consolation game will be held at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

Would-Be Sports Contenders Must Have Examination

All boys out for high school athletics are required to have a physical examination before participation in practice sessions of any sport.

Forms for this examination were given to boys out for football by the coaches of School District No. 117 last week. These forms were to be taken to the family physician for completion. Those boys who cannot get an examination from the family physician should report to the high school gymnasium Monday, Aug. 19, at 8:30 a.m. where they will be examined.

Any boy who did not get a form, but who expects to go out for football, must get the physical examination.

Rod Hanson, Bellatti To Be Here Aug. 19

Rod Hanson, senior end on the 1957 University of Illinois football team, will visit the Jacksonville Exchange Club on Monday, Aug. 19, stopping on a statewide tour distributing posters for the current Illini season.

With Hanson will be Charles Bellatti, former sports editor of the Jacksonville Journal Courier, now athletic publicity director for the University of Illinois.

Hanson has totaled 814 minutes' playing time in two years as a regular end for Illini. As a sophomore, he caught eight passes for 82 yards and one touchdown and made third team All-Big Ten. Last year, he caught ten passes for 133 yards and one touchdown and made honorable mention All-Big Ten and All-Midwest.

A rib injury kept the good-looking, 21-year-old gridder out of practice last spring, but he has recovered fully and has been working out daily in preparation fo rthe 1957 campaign.

Hanson is 6 feet 3 inches tall and weighs 210 pounds in playing trim. He was an all-state end as a prep at Thornton High school in Harvey, which is his home.

The poster tour advertises Illinois' football schedule, which includes five home games: Colgate, Oct. 5; Minnesota (Homecoming), Oct. 19; Purdue (Dad's Day), Nov. 2; Michigan ("I" Men's Day, Chicago Day), Nov. 9; and Northwestern, Nov. 23.

CONTRACT WITH MANAGER WILL NOT BE RENEWED: SPIESER

DETROIT (AP) — Light heavyweight fighter Chuck Spieser's contract with his manager Hec Knowles, expires at midnight Friday and Spieser said Thursday he would not renew it.

"Why give away one-third of everything you make to a guy who doesn't do anything for it?" Spieser said.

He said he found boxing promoters willing to deal with him as a free agent.

"I'm back in training now and I'll be ready for a fight late in September," he said.

Grim Chills Bosox Uprising In 9th, Yanks Win 6-3

BOSTON (AP)—New York pulled 5½ games ahead in the American League race Thursday by defeating Boston 6-3. The Yanks sealed the verdict with two runs on one hit in the ninth inning after reliefer Bob Grim chilled a Red Sox uprising.

Gil McDougald's two-run homer in the eighth made the difference. Elston Howard also homered for New York while Frank Malzone smashed one of the losers.

Ted Williams continued his batting rampage by swatting a double and single in three trips. He hiked his league-leading average 3 points to .393. His Yankee pursuer, Mickey Mantle, struck out twice and walked his other three appearances as his mark fell two notches to .380.

Trailing 4-0 in the bottom of the eighth, the Red Sox chased Bob Turley with a three-run cluster.

Turley extended his winning streak to five games for the Yankees. It was his 10th triumph of the season.

Willard Nixon was charged with his eighth setback.

They race at the Cloud 8 Stable.

Drabowsky Pitches Six Hitter, Cubs Sweep Series From Cards With 4-1 Win

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs compounded the six-hit pitching of bonus boy Moe Drabowsky with home runs by Dale Long and Chuck Tanner to defeat St. Louis 4-1 Thursday for their ninth victory in 12 games.

It was the collapsing Cardinals' ninth straight defeat and dropped them eight full games behind Milwaukee's league-leading Braves. The Cardinals kept second place, however, when Brooklyn lost to the New York Giants 9-4.

The victory marked seventh-place Chicago's second sweep of a three-game series with the Cardinals.

It was a replay of a game halted by rain April 27 with St. Louis leading 4-2 after four innings.

Stan Musial's double in the third inning scored Eddie Kasko, who walked, with the losers' only run. It was St. Louis' 13th run during the reverse skid out of first place. The Cardinals' losing streak now is their longest since 1947.

The Cubs got to Sam Jones, a nine-time winner who suffered his seventh loss, for three runs on as many hits in the second.

SELLING GIVES STRENGTH TO WHEAT, OTHER GRAINS LOSE

By WILLARD ROBERTSON

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat futures showed the only strength in a selling movement on the Board of Trade Thursday.

Hedge selling depressed wheat somewhat, but buying on export expectations rallied the market. Soybeans and corn were weakest, falling more than a cent in most cases. Oats turned downward with corn.

New style wheat closed ⅜ to ⅛ lower, corn 1 to 1⅞ lower, oats ¼ to ⅝ down, rye ¾ to 1⅛ off, soybeans ¾ to 1½ lower, and lard 10 cents a hundred pounds higher to 5 cents lower.

Export demand for wheat is extremely slow at present, but traders believe it will pick up following signing of an agreement Wednesday under which Communist Poland will buy huge amounts of farm surpluses, including about 16 million bushels of wheat.

Traders believe Poland may want soft red winter wheat, the variety grown in the Midwest and which has Chicago as its principal outlet. Such demand could make supplies short here, and the government also has forecast much smaller production of this variety this year.

Favorable growing weather caused selling in both corn and soybeans. The 30-day forecast indicates above normal rainfall in the growing belt. There is some trade disagreement over this. Some contend it will be helpful, while others say the wet weather will retard soybean maturity.

New York Stock Market

By WALTER BUSSEWITZ

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market tried hard to advance Thursday but had to settle for little more than an even break.

At the close, more stocks were lower than were higher, while the averages were a little higher, giving the over-all market a mixed tone.

Changes in either direction generally were under $2.

It was a day in which the market shifted currents frequently in moderately active trading in the wake of Wednesday's sharp decline.

Prices were higher at the start but faded back within an hour. There was another rally in early afternoon, but at best it left the market mixed. Prices drifted lower again until a third flurry of buying near the close.

Brokers were in disagreement over whether the market had reached a climactic stage after its month-long decline. Some suggested that the market needs a good shot in the arm in the way of constructive news before it can pack the punch for a major turnaround.

There was little in the way of news to help investment sentiment Thursday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 70 cents to $178, with industrials up $1, rails 60 cent and utilities 10 cents.

Volume of 2,040,000 exactly equaled the total Wednesday when the average declined $2.20.

The American Stock Exchange was irregularly lower on volume of 880,000 shares compared with Wednesday's 720,000.

REUNION AUGUST 25 AT LOCAL PARK

The Wilson-Rowe family reunion will be held at Nichols park Sunday, Aug. 25. A basket dinner will be served at 12:30 o'clock DST.

All descendants of the Wilson-Rowe family are urged to attend.

Arenzville, Concord, Chapin Schools Ready To Open August 28

Community Unit District No. 2 schools, Arenzville, Chapin, and Concord, will open on Wednesday, Aug. 28. School will be in session until noon on that day, and the afternoon will be devoted to local faculty meetings. Schools will operate on Daylight Time.

The bus routes and time schedules will be approximately the same as they were last year.

There will be no lunches served on the 28th, but all three lunch programs will be in operation on Aug. 29 and thereafter. The cost of lunches will be the same as last year—25c.

All pupils in grades one, five, and nine are required to have a physical examination. The physical examination cards should be completed and brought to the home room the first day of school.

The building principals will be in their offices each day after Aug. 20 until school opens for consultation and registration of new students in the district. Students in high school desiring to make changes in their class schedule should come to the office of the principal. A course in trigonometry and solid geometry will be taught in the Arenzville High School this year, and Latin will be added at Chapin High School.

Faculties for the unit schools are complete. There will be five new members on the unit faculty. Two will teach in the Chapin High School, Mrs. Margaret Wilson, social science, language, and girls' P. E.; and Glenn Ambler, social science and coach. At the Arenzville High School, Mrs. Mary Crauthamel will teach social science and Girls' P. E. Forest Adkins will teach in the seventh and eighth grade department at Chapin Grade School, and will serve as grade school coach. David W. Niederbrach will be the unit vocal instructor.

House Over-Rides Ike's Plea, Cuts Foreign Aid Bill

teller vote a move to restore 129 million dollars of the 165 millions the committee cut from Eisenhower's request for 750 million dollars in defense support funds.

Defense support is the term used for economic aid to friendly countries to support their defense programs.

Defeated 149 to 101 was a move to restore the 200 millions the committee cut from the requested 500 million dollars for a new loan fund for economic development overseas.

Yates Move Beaten

Beaten 180-103 was a move by Rep. Yates (D-Ill) to add $26,900,000 to the fund for technical cooperation or Point Four aid. That would have put back all but 12 million dollars of the committee cut on that fund.

Also defeated 145-63 was an amendment which would have cut even $6,050,000 deeper than the committee figure on the sums for technical aid through the United Nations.

A voice vote then shouted down a motion to restore the 75 million dollars the committee rimmed from the 250 millions Eisenhower sought for general economic aid purposes. This fund is known as special assistance.

The recommittal move defeated 145-129 just before passage was offered by Rep. Judd (R-Minn).

Judd proposed to add 350 million dollars to military assistance, 165 million to defense support and 200 million to the development loan fund — a total of 715 million.

The House did raise from 5 to 10 million dollars the amount of special assistance funds the committee said could be used to help Guatemala. This amendment did not change the money total in the bill.

OFFERED COMMAND

Robert E. Lee's reputation as a military leader was so great at the outbreak of the Civil War that President Abraham Lincoln offered him command of the federal field forces.

The Brazilian government is a federal republic like the United States.

Michigan State's Bowl Renamed Spartan Stadium

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A name change for Michigan State's enlarged football bowl, from Macklin Stadium to Spartan Stadium, was announced Thursday at MSU.

The field has been known as Macklin Stadium in honor of the late John F. Macklin, first full-time athletic director and coach of all sports from 1911 to 1916.

"For some time, it has been felt that the name of Macklin Stadium had little significance for the current generation of alumni, fans and students," commented MSU President John A. Hannah.

"It seemed that a name of more general significance would be appropriate and we decided on Spartan Stadium as the best suggestion."

Iceberg Season In N. Atlantic Finally Over

BOSTON (AP)—The iceberg season in the North Atlantic shipping lanes is over.

"The iceberg season this year was longer than usual," Capt. Kenneth S. Davis of the Coast Guard, commander of the International Ice Patrol, said today. "It normally lasts from mid-March to mid-July. This year it began in mid-February and ended officially Aug. 10."

The ice patrol logged a record 897 bergs this season, Capt. Davis said. In an average season, 396 are sighted and charted.

The last berg charted this season was "a whopper, more than 600 feet long and 200 feet wide," Capt. Davis said.

"It was first sighted by a Navy ship, smack in the middle of the shipping lanes east of Boston," Capt. Davis said. "The cutter Acushnet sat on it for several weeks until it finally melted. That delayed the end of the season."

The ice patrol consists of about 250 officers and men. There are two cutters and several planes.

The bergs are located by the planes, which scout daily over an area about the size of the State of Pennsylvania off the Grand Banks of Newfoundland, traditional route south for the bergs after they break off the Greenland ice cap.

When a berg is spotted from the air, its position is radioed to a cutter, which takes up a position in sight of the berg and logs it. The information then is radioed to all ships in the vicinity.

The southernmost berg sighted this season, Capt. Davis said, was about 1,000 miles due east of New York.

"Not many get that far south, though," said Capt. Davis.

The International Ice Patrol was established in 1914, two years after the luxury liner Titanic struck a berg and sank on its maiden voyage with a loss of 1,517 lives.

Charge Dio Dodged $20,168

Both were opened Thursday and U.S. Atty. Paul W. Williams explained: "You may ask why we filed secret indictments against these men. In the case of Ray, it was because the Riesel acid-blinding indictment was pending and the government did not want to prejudice a fair trial of the defendant by publishing alleged violations of the tax laws by the defendant.

"In the case of Dio, Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan was about to go to trial against him in state court and it might have been prejudicial to have published his alleged tax offenses."

Fair's 'Million-Dollar Parade' Of Livestock Starts At Noon

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) —Judges Thursday tapped another batch of fine, blooded animals to march in the "Million-Dollar Parade" of livestock at the Illinois State Fair.

The parade, scheduled to swing past the grandstand shortly after noon Friday, will have a full complement of champions following early morning judging of Ayrshire cattle. A steer sale will precede the grand march, with 54 animals headed for the block at the arena.

Attendance estimates for the fair's seventh day soared 40,000 over the mark for the same day last year to a total of 75,000. Crowds baked in 93-degree heat and high humidity.

Milking derbies headed into the stretch with a Saanen goat from Lowell, Ind., and a Holstein cow from Stanford, Ill., ahead of other contenders in their classes.

The Saanen, "Vigo Dottiebee," is owned by Morris Gilbert. In the junior department race, the Holstein, a 4-year-old, put its milker, Dennis Stubblefield, 16, about 17 points ahead of his nearest rival with a total of 101.11 points.

Horseshoe pitching laurels were cinched by Ellis Griggs of Plainville, who defeated Milton Tate of Peoria in playoff for the state title; and Gary Fransworth of Potomac, who took the boys title by winning seven matches in round-robin play.

Ravendale Farm of Freeburg came through Holstein cattle judging with grand and senior champion bulls awards in the open, Illinois and Land of Lincoln classes, as well as the junior championship for bulls.

In polled Hereford competition, the entry of Cumberland Trial Hereford Farm of St. Elmo, was chosen grand champion bull.

Grand champion boar of Yorkshire swine judging was shown by Russell Eddie of Storm Lake, Iowa, while Crabtree Farms of Lake Bluff showed the grand champion Yorkshire sow.

High H. Neeley of Pecatonica took home blue ribbons for his grand champion Hampshire sow.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The United States is glad of an excuse to get rid of Dr. Farid Zeineddine, Syrian ambassador to Washington who has abused his privileges on many occasions by his unfriendly criticism of American policy.

Talk of breaking diplomatic relations with Syria because she ousted three aides of the American Embassy in Damascus, is, however, a horse of a different color.

Breaks in diplomatic relations used to be a common practice of world diplomacy when one country wished to express extreme disapproval of another without going to war. Sometimes they did lead to war.

In recent years, the emphasis has been on maintaining relations. This is due in part to the growing importance of continuing attempts to reconcile differences in a world which lives under the shadow of the mushroom cloud.

It is also due to the very practical importance of keeping contact and knowing the intentions of enemy or unfriendly governments.

Damascus has been the outpost of Soviet Russian communism in the Middle East. It is one of the key points in the Communist campaign to cut off the European former colonial powers from the traditional sources of natural resources in Africa and Asia, and so promote their collapse. This campaign has been carefully planned and in operation for more than 10 years.

The Syrians didn't throw out the Americans because there was any evidence they had plotted against the Syrian government. They were thrown out because Western observers are not wanted as Syria and Egypt go about the business of trying to take over the Arab world with Russian aid.

Presumably, under continued diplomatic relations, these men can ultimately be replaced. Other Syrians will come to Washington to replace those ousted by the United States in retaliation. It may take time.

The one country in the world which has frequently insulted the United States, and violated the terms under which diplomatic relations were established 25 years ago, is Soviet Russia. Yet there has been no serious consideration of withdrawal of recognition.

The United State, in dealing with the nations which teeter back and forth across the fence between communism and democracy, works constantly with one hope. It is that they will eventually discover not only on which side their bread is buttered, but which side offers them the greatest moral inducements and the greatest hope of attaining their own independence of outside pressure.

Sure Lost $810 Gone For Good; Has Big Surprise

NEW YORK (AP) — A New York City dress salesman figured it was "finders keepers" when he lost his wallet containing $810 on a sales trip to Chicago last Friday.

But he was wrong.

The salesman, David F. Zuckerman was so convinced the money was gone that he didn't even notify police in Chicago.

An airmail letter was waiting for him in his Manhattan office Wednesday. The letter was from Charles H. Roche, 74-year-old foreman in the Chicago water distribution system. It was enclosed in another letter addressed to Zuckerman's company asking that he be reached immediately "to keep me from becoming gray."

Roche's letter to Zuckerman told him not to "lose a portion of your sleep" but to get in touch with Roche.

Zuckerman telephoned to Chicago and Mrs. Roche answered. She asked him how much money was in the wallet. He said he thought it was almost $800. "That's wrong," said Mrs. Roche. "There was $810. We are sending you a bank draft at once."

Mrs. Roche turned down any reward. Zuckerman then said the least he could do was send her a new dress. "Thank you," Mrs. Roche replied, "but I don't need a new dress."

Roche explained later that he spotted the wallet in Halsted Street in South Chicago while he was with a crew of workmen looking for water leaks. He picked it up, but said nothing to the others about his find.

Carmichael Wins Junior Golf Meet

CHICAGO (AP) — Sam Carmichael, 18, Martinsville, Ind., won the Chicago District Golf Assn. Junior Open Thursday with a 72-hole total of 292, 4 over par for the distance.

Carmichael, a football and basketball prep star headed for Louisiana State this all, shot a final 73 and finished 3 strokes ahead of Dean Refram of Chicago.

Emil Esposito of Franklin Park, Ill., the defending champion, finished far behind with 311. Third was Bernie Magnussen, Winnetka, a Stanford University student, with 296. Other leaders included: Mike Tolinszsis, Bradley, 300; Bob McDonald, Mt. Prospect, 301; Lawrence Markman, Peoria, 302; and Michael Klein, Peoria, 304.

present it to an Executive Council meeting called for Sept. 24-25 in New York City.

The Council will draw up its recommendations in time to lay them before delegates to the Teamsters convention Sept. 30 in Miami Beach. The recommendations may outline what steps the Teamsters must take to remain in the AFL-CIO fold.

The Council received an application for AFL-CIO membership from the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, the largest of the operating rail unions. Meany said it has 160,000 active members.

Meany was given authority to admit the brotherhood after a few jurisdictional and constitutional matters are adjusted. One of them is the ban on Negro membership in the brotherhood's constitution. That is contrary to the no-discrimination clause in the AFL-CIO constitution.

To Quiz Second Couple On Fatal St. Louis Shooting

ST. LOUIS (AP) — One married couple has been released and another was to be questioned today in the shooting Monday during a rock'n roll session at Kiel Auditorium in which one man was killed and three persons hurt.

A 23-year-old laborer and his wife who had been arrested Wednesday were released for lack of positive identification.

A second couple arrested Wednesday night were scheduled to take lie detector tests today.

The shooting followed an altercation during the music session.

A coroner's jury ruled that Clay G. Phelps was murdered. He was not involved in the disturbance prior to the shooting, nor were the other three injured persons. The four 45 caliber shots which were fired went wild.

The shooter and a woman companion fled.

DISPLAYED CRAFT

In the eighteenth century, at "mop fairs," domestic and farm laborers would display themselves carrying some emblem to show their craft and farmers would hire them for the year.

ACCIDENT INJURES TWO

Shown above is the 1952 Ford in which two local youths were injured Thursday evening when the car struck the telephone pole near the intersection of East College and Spaulding Place. Five persons were riding in the car at the time of the accident.

Two Injured When Car Hits Telephone Pole

Two local youths were hospitalized Thursday evening following an automobile accident on East College avenue.

Pvt. Clarence Bobby Floyd, 719 North Main street, and Eddie Joe Settles, 331 Fulton street, were taken to Our Saviour's hospital by the Cooney ambulance after their car struck a telephone pole while they were attempting to pass a car at the intersection of East College avenue and Spaulding Place.

Floyd attempted to pass a car turning left onto Spaulding Place on the right side. The turning car was unable to complete the turn forcing the Floyd car, a 1952 Ford, to the extreme right of the street. The car hit one telephone pole, bounced off, and struck the second one, nearly head-on.

Two girls, Patricia Sneeden, route four, Jacksonville, and Judy Waits, route three, Jacksonville, were riding in the back seat of the car but were unhurt.

John Wingler was also riding in the car, in the front seat with Settles and Floyd, but was also unhurt.

Pvt. Floyd is home on leave before beginning a tour of overseas duty.

Floyd has possible head and internal injuries. Both boys remained at the hospital.

The car was towed to the Chevrolet garage by the Chevrolet wrecker.

Senate Confirms Paarlberg As Benson Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — Overriding Democratic protests, the Senate Thursday night confirmed President Eisenhower's nomination of Don Paarlberg as assistant secretary of agriculture.

It acted by a roll call vote of 42-32.

Opponents based their protest on the charge that the Indianan's goal, as "the brains" behind Secretary of Agriculture Benson, is the elimination of the small farm

A former Purdue University economist, he has been an assistant to Benson since the Eisenhower administration came into power. Democrats called him "the architect of the economic policies of the department."

A leading Republican advocate of mandatory high price supports —Sen. Young of North Dakota— said he was opposed to Paarlberg, as he was to Benson, because "he honestly doesn't believe in price supports." Young said the policies Paarlberg believes in could bankrupt this nation.

But a Democrat—Sen. Holland of Florida, who supports flexible price supports — championed Paarlberg as a gentleman of high honor who is well qualified in the field of agricultural economics.

FILE WHEAT LOSS CLAIMS IN STATE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) —Claims for wheat losses in 12 Illinois counties covered by federal insurance may total $100,000 this year, the state director of the Federal Crop Insurance Corp. said Thursday.

Rudy E. Ostermeier said much of the wheat crop in several west central and south central counties, particularly Bond, Clinton, Macoupin and Shelby, was low in test weight and of poor quality.

Notices of loss have also been filed, he said, by corn and soybean growers affected by recent heavy rains. Rains have greatly increased possibility of frost damage this fall, he said.

Thirty Illinois counties now have access to all-risk coverage on corn, soybeans and winter wheat.

KUYKENDALL APPROVED

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Thursday night approved President Eisenhower's reappointment of Jerome K. Kuykendall to the Federal Power Commission. The vote was 50-25.

Kuykendall, from the state of Washington, came under sharp attack from Western Democratic senators whm accused him of favoring private utilities and natural gas producers at the expense of consumers.

Republican senators said in defending Kuykendall that opponents were taking out on him personally their unsuccessful fights for such federal projects as Hell's Canyon dam.

Kuykendall is expected to be renamed chairman of the FPC by Eisenhower.

NO TAKERS FOR 77 CENT DOLLAR

CORTLAND, N.Y. (AP)—Howard Shaver put an envelope containing a one dollar bill on display outside his clothing store Thursday with a sign reading: "Special today — $1 bill reduced to 77 cents."

Scores of passersby eyed the sign. Shaver reported:

"I counted 27 people who picked it up and looked at it, but not a soul would buy it."

Expect Jagan To Set Up Red Government

GOERGETOWN, British Guiana (AP)—A brilliant young East Indian who preaches Marxist-Communist doctrines was expected Thursday to form a government in British Guinana within 72 hours.

He is handsome 39-year-old Dr. Cheddi Jagan, who could probably win a television quiz show as an expert on the U.S. Constitution and the American Revolution.

The big question was whether the dentist, overwhelming victor in Monday's general elections, would try again as he did in 1953 to set up a Communist government in Britain's only South American colony.

Apparently the British feel the magnitude of Jagan's victory—9 of 14 elective Legislative Council seats of his People's Progressive party—compels them to give him another chance. The last time he came to power they forced him out after 133 days.

The gesture is not a grave move for the British, because the ultimate authority lies in the hands of British Gov. Sir Patrick Renison.

Under constitutional rules created since 1953, the governor can appoint up to 11 legislators, who with 3 British administrative members of the Council could outvote the Jaganits. As a further safeguard, the governor can also suspend councilmen.

STRATTON REDUCES MINNECI'S SENTENCE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Gov. Stratton Thursday reduced from 75 to 72 years the sentence of Leo Minneci, convicted of murder in Cook County in 1933.

The action will make Minneci eligible for parole consideration at an early date, the governor said. Minneci originally was sentenced to 199 years but the term was commuted to 75 years in 1950 because of his voluntary participation in malarial experiments.

The Illinois Parole and Pardon Board in its report to Stratton said the sentence was "unduly severe."

Mrs. Alva Fields Dies At Hospital In North Dakota

PITTSFIELD — Word has been received by relatives here of the death of Mrs. Alva Fields in a hospital at Williston, N. D., Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Fields was the former Miss Maud Howland of Pittsfield and was the widow of Alva Field, a native of Pittsfield, who died in Williston several years ago.

Soon after their marriage the young couple took up their residence in North Dakota, then a growing and prosperous wheat farming area of the country, where he became prosperous through his business ability, and at the time of his death, was the owner of large farming interests and president of the bank at Williston. Mrs. Fields had continued to make her home there, but returned here at intervals to visit her sister, Mrs. Harry Reinecke, and her sister-in-law, Miss Florine Fields, both of whom survive.

Mrs. Reinecke is the last survivor of the family of George Howland who was engaged in the grocery business here for a number of years. Mrs. Fields was graduated from the Pittsfield high school in 1898, and several of her classmates still live here.

The body will be brought to Pittsfield for interment in the West cemetery and will be received upon arrival by the Sutter funeral home. Brief services will be held at the Sutter funeral chapel at 3:30 Saturday afternoon, with committal services following at the cemetery.

Mrs. Underwood Dies Thursday At Our Saviour's

Mrs. Jennie Underwood, widow of Everett Underwood, 785 East College avenue, died at Our Saviour's hospital at 10:05 p.m. Thursday.

She was 80 years old. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Ruth Kitchens, Decatur.

The body is at the Williamson funeral home. Arrangements are incomplete.

ANNOUNCE CHANGE IN SOIL BANK RULE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department Thursday removed from its 1958 soil bank regulations a provision for a civil penalty against farmers who exceed the permitted acreage for harvest of soil bank base crops.

Under the 1958 program, a base will be established for participating farms. This will be the average number of acres harvested in 1956 and 1957.

In an acreage reserve agreement, a farmer agrees not to harvest more acres than this base, less any acreage placed in the soil bank. This is his permitted acreage for harvest.

The 1958 regulations as originally announced provided that the harvest of more than his permitted acreage would subject the farmer to a civil penalty of 50 per cent of the payment which would have been made for full compliance as well as to the loss of the payment itself.

Under Thursday's modification, farmers who do not comply with the permitted acreage provision will still forfeit the entire payment, but no additional penalty will apply.

To Push Extradition Plans For Bringing Suspect To Illinois

CARROLLTON—Greene county officials stated Thursday that every effort will be made to extradite Clifford Arnold Melton, 24 year old St. Louis laborer from Missouri to Illinois in connection with the death of Mrs. Betty Lee McGee of Jacksonville, whose body was found on the highway between White Hall and Carrollton last Monday morning.

State's Attorney Keith Hubbard and Assistant State's Attorney L. A. Mehrhoff have asked the State of Illinois officials to furnish the necessary forms so that extradition proceedings could be started.

When the proper forms are received and filled out, Sheriff Fred Ballard of Greene county will then take them to Springfield to be signed by Governor William G. Stratton.

After the governor's signature has been placed on the papers the sheriff and state's attorney will go to Jefferson City, Mo., to have the governor of Missouri sign the extradition.

When the Missouri governor places his signature on the papers granting the extradition, the Greene county officials will take all papers in the case to St. Louis where an order will be issued in circuit court granting permission to move Melton from Missouri to Illinois.

Sheriff Ballard and other Greene county officials are continuing their investigation of the case.

Sheriff Ballard signed a complaint against Melton Wednesday in a justice of the peace court charging murder.

Melton has denied knowing Mrs. McGee, but admitted to Greene county officers that he was with a woman in Greene county last Sunday.

Court Order Closes Office On Saturday

Both the Morgan county circuit clerk and recorder's offices will be closed Saturday of this week, Aug. 17, and on each Saturday thereafter until further order of the court, it was announced Thursday.

Judge Creel Douglass this week directed that an order be entered to close the circuit clerk's office each Saturday.

Since the circuit clerk and recorder's office is a combined office in Morgan county, Judge Douglass stated that the circuit clerk's office will also close all day Saturday, until further notice.

For the past two weeks the recorder's room has been closed, while the connecting circuit clerk's room remained open.

The Saturday closing law grew out of Senate Bill 571 under which offices of recorders in all Illinois counties were directed not to receive instruments for recording on Saturdays throughout the year. The judges of the Seventh judicial district, of which Morgan is a part, have ordered that the circuit clerks also suspend business on Saturdays.

Scott County Schools Will Open August 28

WINCHESTER — Wednesday, Aug. 28, will be registration day for schools in Community Unit School District No. 1. School will begin at 9 a.m. and classes will be dismissed at 10:30 a.m. with no afternoon classes at all schools, which include Alsey, Manchester, Winchester Grades and Winchester High. No school will be held at Merritt and Glasgow this year. These pupils will be transported to Alsey School and Winchester Grade School.

Regular bus runs will be made on the first day, Wednesday, and the routes and time schedules will be approximately the same as last year.

No lunches will be served the first day. Lunches will be served on Thursday, Aug. 29, and the price will be the same as last year, 30c per day, payment to be made in advance either weekly or monthly.

Principals and secretaries will be on duty in all schools after Aug. 15 and parents are urged to call at the schools, except Winchester High School, anytime during the week of Aug. 19 through Aug. 23, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., to make advance payment of their book rental and pupil insurance. This method of payment saves much confusion on the opening day of school and allows the teachers to devote their time to other necessary duties. Therefore, it is hoped that all parents will call at the schools during the week designated.

First graders who were not registered last spring should be registered before the opening day of school.

Pupil insurance and rental book fees will be the same as last year. Insurance charge will be $1.25 for both grade and high school pupils. Elementary schools will have a flat charge of $6.00 per grade, one through eight, for book rental fee.

A workshop for all teachers in the unit district will be held Tuesday, Aug. 27, at 9:00 a.m. at the Winchester High School. Tuesday afternoon will be left open for teacher meetings with the principals, if the principals desire a meeting.

The schools will begin with a full corps of teachers with the exception of three teachers: vocal music in the Winchester Grade and Winchester High Schools, boy's PE and driver training in the Winchester High School, and girls' PE in Winchester High.

New Selective Service Hours

Mrs. Ada Rukgaber of Pittsfield, has been employed as Clerk in the Scott County Selective Service Board Office following the resignation of Mrs. Calista Milstead, who has resigned because of ill health.

The clerk has announced that the new office hours will be as follows: Wednesday of each week, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., and also on Thursday mornings from 9 to 12 a.m. until further notice.

Mrs. Rukgaber has been employed at the Pike County Selective Service Board Office since 1940, and will continue her position there on the days she is not in Winchester.

Garbage Storage Ordinance

Mayor Horace Walmsley has announced that the Police Department has been instructed to commence a rigid enforcement of Winchester's Garbage Storage Ordinance. All insect attracting waste and garbage must be kept in a tight, metal closed container from the time it leaves the kitchens until hauled away for disposal. Violators are subject to a fine of from $5.00 to $50.00 for each offense.

TO RACES IN AKRON

Rex Henly, 15, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rex O. Henly, 911 W. College avenue, are shown as they left Jacksonville Wednesday for the National Soap Box Derby at Akron, Ohio.

They were accompanied by Walter Hamilton, representing John Ellis Chevrolet, and Mrs. Hamilton.

Rex will represent the Journal Courier in the national contest to be staged in Akron Sunday.

Rex Henly Draws For National Derby Place

Thursday morning things got under way at the 20th All-American Soap Box Derby to be held in Akron, Ohio. One of the first things that was done was the drawing for the race to be held Sunday, August 18. The results of the drawing have been wired back from Akron. In the first lane is the boy from Lima, Ohio; in the second lane will be Rex Henly Jacksonville's entrant; and in the third lane will be the lad from Beloit, Wisconsin.

Rex will be a Junior in Jacksonville High school this fall. He has two brothers Jerry, 14 and Bill, 11 and one sister Mary, 14. Accompanying Rex to the All American derby are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Henly of 911 West College and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hamilton representing the John Ellis Chevrolet Co. Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hull, Rex's grandparents, and his brothers will be at derby downs Sunday to cheer him on.

On July 21 Rex guided his gravity powered racer across the finish line on the West College hill speedway. Coming in a close second was Phillip Howe of 133 City Place. This Sunday afternoon Rex will carry Jacksonville's hopes in the 1957 national race. Only two other boys in the history of the race from Jacksonville have survived the first heat, however; one of these boys lost in the second race and the other, Ralph Wohlers in 1954, lost the third race.

Rex's car which weighs 249 pounds with him aboard has been sent to Akron ahead of the driver and was waiting when they arrived late Wednesday. The weight limit for the boy and car is 250 pounds.

Whale Of A Time

Winners of local Derby races are headed for the thrill of their lives at the All-American! Four days of excitement and fun are waiting for them in Akron. They'll be entertained by famous celebrities who are invited to the All-American. The champions will live in Derbytown, a magnificent YMCA camp, complete with a beautiful lake and facilities for almost every sport.

On Friday before the race the boys get an opportunity to test their racers on the All-American track.

Sunday is the biggest day of all —a thrilling parade with many bands and all the colorful trimmings starts the gala activities and a huge crowd is on hand to watch the spectacular event. The boys are honored guests at the Banquet of Champions after the All-American. Here the college scholarship awards and other prizes are given to the winners.

Prizes Galore

In addition to the E. N. Cole trophy which was presented the day of the local race Rex will receive a wrist watch regardless of his performance in the big race. Other prizes that will be awarded to winners in Akron will include: first prize, $5,000 four-year college scholarship; second prize, $4,000 college scholarship; third prize, $3,000 college scholarship; fourth prize, $2,000 scholarship; fifth prize, $1,000 scholarship; sixth prize, encyclopedia set; seventh prize, motion picture camera and projector; eighth, power workshop unit; ninth, portable radio; and trophies for the best brakes and the fastest heat.

Rex is sponsored in the All American by the Jacksonville Journal Courier.

Al G. Kelly, Miller Circus Here Sept. 5

Al G. Kelly and Miller Brothers Circus, which the owners claim is the largest touring circus in the nation, will visit Jacksonville Thursday, Sept. 5, for afternoon and night performances.

The circus will pitch its tents at the Hempel show grounds on east Walnut street.

Arthur W. Miller, general representative of the circus, was in the city Thursday, making preliminary arrangements for the coming of the wild animal show, making its 36th annual tour.

The advertising cars, comprising six motorized units, with a crew of 28 advertising and publicity men will arrive soon notorizing the coming event, by placing bright, colorful posters within the city and surrounding communities.

This will mark the first appearance of a big circus here in three years, and undoubtedly the very first one to bring such outstanding and unusual animals such as: Giraffes, Hippopotamus, and Rhinoceros. In addition a herd of 21 elephants, besides more than 200 animals including: Lions, Tigers, Pumas, and Leopards, numerous species of monkeys, apes and baboons; black, grizzly, himalayan, and Polar Bears; Hyenas, Baby Gorillas, Kangaroos, Mandrills, Gnu, Emu, Llamas, Seals, Sealions, Wart Hogs, India Water Buffalo, Zebu, Bison, Persian White Sacred Deer Zebras, Camels, Tapirs, Dromedary; An aviary of tropical birds, dens of tropical reptiles; also 127 head of horses, Ponies, Kylo, Yak and donkeys. Now recognized as the largest, most varied and costly collection of rare animals ever exhibited with an American Circus.

Al G. Kelly and Miller Bros. is said to be the largest tented circus entour. It is featuring Col. Tim McCoy, noted western movie and TV star in person.

40 Golden Neck Chickens Stolen

CURBING THE JETS—As planes get faster, airport runways shrink. So there's plenty of concern about handling the first big commercial airliners when they start service two years from now. The "water squeeze" system illustrates safety methods being considered. It incorporates gadgets like those used on military aircraft. Wires hook onto the plane's landing gear (No. 1) if it is in danger of dashing off the end of the runway and brake it to a safe stop. Simple plungers (No. 2) are pulled through pipes alongside the runway to absorb the energy. The water isn't "squeezed," but resists the plunger. The nose wheel starts the action (No. 3). In striking the actuator cable it raises the stanchions (No. 4) which hold the arresting cable so that the cable will engage the main landing gear for a natural stop.

Waverly Rites Unite Dixie Lythell, Kansas Man

WAVERLY--Miss Dixie Lynne Lythell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Lythell, and William R. Gramke, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Gramke, of Emporia, Kan., were united in marriage Saturday, Aug. 10 at 4 o'clock at the Waverly Christian church.

The vows were repeated at the altar that was decorated with white gladioli, white chrysanthemums, blue carnations, ferns and lighted candelabra. Rev. Robert L. Foster, pastor of the church, performed the double ring ceremony.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. H. C. Duewer Jr., played "The Lord's Prayer," and the traditional wedding marches. Miss Rhonda Sue Lythell, sister of the bride, lighted the candles.

The bride was attended by a classmate at Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, Miss Julia Mason, of Fairfield, Ill. Serving the groom as best man was Guy W. Martin. The usher was Herbert Miller.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of white nylon over net. It featured a V neckline and shirred bodice. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of irridescent pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations centered with a purple-throated orchid. Her only jewelry was a strand of Delta seed pearls.

Miss Mason's gown was a shaded blue nylon. It featured a shirred bodice, off the shoulder neckline and ballerina length skirt. Her corsage was of white carnations. Miss Rhonda Sue Lythell wore a white nylon dress and her corsage was of blue carnations.

Basement Reception

A reception was held following the ceremony in the church basement. The serving table was lighted with blue tapers. The three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was frosted in white and decorated with delicate blue open roses. Mrs. James Laugharn, of Springfield, served the cake and Mrs. John Rourke of Springfield, cousin of the bride, served punch.

Attends Nursing School

The bride attended the Waverly schools, graduating in the class of 1956. The past year she attended the Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, Springfield.

Mr. Gramke is a graduate of Emporia high school, Kansas, and of Wichita Technical Institute of Electronics. He also attended the Wichita University. He was employed at Wichita by the Boeing Airplane Company as a flight operations electrician. He is now employed at a Radio and Electronic Inspector at the McDonnel Aircraft Corporation of St. Louis, Mo.

When the couple left for their wedding trip the bride was wearing a dress of white eyelet embroidery over pink and the orchid corsage from her wedding bouquet.

Upon their return they will reside at 2076 Dunnegan street, Alton, Ill.

W. Germany's New Army, Navy, Air Force Trained To Match Most Tough, Fanatical Fighters

BONN, Germany (AP)—Germany's army, navy and air force are being rebuilt to serve alongside the other armies of the free world.

But how do these German recruits and volunteers compare witht he goose-stepping militaristic troops that Hitler directed down the road to defeat? How do they feel about fighting beside troops who were their enemies only a few years ago? Do they relish the idea that perhaps they might have to fight their own countrymen, the East Germans?

To find out, The Associated Presss ent three of its veteran German editors to army, navy and air force bases throughout the country.

They are well qualified to write on their particular services. All saw service during World War II —Rudolph W. Panz as a soldier in the Wehrmacht, Herbert Schmitt as a German naval officer and Helmut von Brauchitsch as a Luftwaffe fighter pilot.

By RUDOLF W. PANZ

If Soviet aggression came tomorrow, there would be three German infantry divisions fighting shoulder-to-shoulder with American, British, French and other Allied troops.

They were placed under the command of Gen. Lauris Norstad, suppreme commander of Allied forces in Europe, on July 1 as West Germany's first major military contribution to the Atlantic Alliance.

What sort of troops are they?

After observing their activities in the barracks, in the field and in canteens at night and talking with generals, platoon leaders and conscripts, I came away with these conclusions:

This youngest army in the world is not an army of softies. The new German soldiers are being trained to match one of the toughest fighters in the world: The indoctrinated and fanatical Communist soldier of the Soviet empire.

At the same time, the new German army is probably the most unmilitaristic military institution in the world. It is leaning over backwards to avoid any similarities with the old German military traditions.

There is definitely a new spirit in the new German armed forces. The "Deutschland Ueber Alles" lets-go-after-them mood that prevailed in the prewar Wehrmacht is gone. Says the commander of a tank battalion: "We know better than anyone else in the world what war means. We want to be left in peace. But if the Russians should get ideas, we're going to be ready for them."

Since the army had to be built up from rock-bottom, the planners could adapt it to the new Germany. They threw out the goose-step, the rigid standing at attention and things like the buck private having to ask the "mister corporal" for permission to walk past him on the street. Formal drill was reduced to a minimum.

The break with the old traditions is nearly complete. The name of the forces was changed from Wehrmacht to Bundeswehr, the uniforms are different in cut and color, the rank and unit insignia are completely new, an American style helmet replaces the old Wehrmacht head gear and boots have rubber soles instead of hob nails.

The young German soldiers are in good spirits. Their morale is excellent. They are politically alert. They have the feeling that they are doing a job for their country.

By HERBERT SCHMITT

It's a tough job building up a navy, however small, if you have to start from scratch.

After almost 18 months of feverish activity, the fledgling new German navy now boasts some 70 boats and small ships, some 10,000 officers and sailor and about a dozen schools, bases and camps.

Everything is still in a build-up stage. At the Flensburg naval underwater weapons school for training sailors in the handling of torpedoes, mines, mine-sweeping gear and the tactics of frog men, there are hardly any torpedo models.

Two or three outdated air-powered Mark 7 torpedoes of British make which the Royal Navy has not used since the first two years of the World War II are all that is available to teach young German sailors.

"NATO hasn't made up its mind yet on which torpedo would be the best," said one officer," and we're likely to be the last ones to get a new type for training."

Going through the nearby naval signal school, I saw several young sailors busily building some electric devises for teaching purposes.

"We don't have the money to buy them, so we have to build them ourselves with material we sometimes get from a scrap dealer," was the explanation of an officer.

Also in Flensburg at the naval school, where the young midshipmen and officers undergo several months of studying, a commander told me: "I'm supposed to teach logistics around here and I do it. But don't ask me how. For 10 months I've been awaiting directives on what and how to teach. I haven't got anything yet from the naval department in Bonn."

This new navy, like the army, is softer on its men.

In Eckernfoerde near the Baltic port of Kiel I met a 38-year-old lieutenant commander who told me: "All these 18 and 19-year-old boys come here with great enthusiasm for the navy. It would be completely wrong if we would treat them the old way: Drill, drill and again drill.

"They do go out in the field, they do handle their rifles, machine guns and bazookas properly, they do crouch on the earth for half an hour—but they're told in advance why they do it. They're given field problems during which they simply have to do these things or else they wouldn't survive in a battle."

By HELMUT von BRAUCHITSCH

The changes in the life of a German airman since Hitler's Luftwaffe was smashed more than 12 years are are surprising in many respects.

For the new air force pilots even the language has changed. They have to speak English fluently. Many modern aviation expressions no longer exist in German.

The reforms in basic military training methods have been so sweeping that some recruits today complain about laxity.

"The new spirit of the air force has been much more drastically dictated by the general technical development than it would have been possible by human reforms," said a staff officer at the German-American air base Fuerstenfeldbruck near Munich.

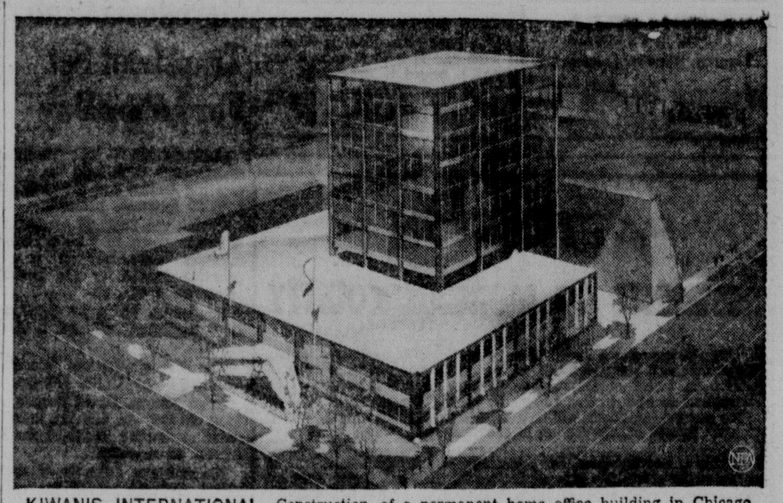

"In the air we are much more Prussian today than the Prussians ever were," he added, referring to the strict system of regulations and procedures that have been adopted from the U.S. Air Force.

"The entire training program impresses me as being very precise and thorough," said a German air force major with nearly 200 "kills" during World War II. "Its scope and thoroughness insure the best possible training for our future pilots in the German air force. Modern flying is much more complicated and intricate than it was during the war."

Not all the new air force pilots want to fly the most modern and fastest types of planes. Some pilots definitely don't like jet planes. They prefer propellor-driven transports, liaison and observation planes or helicopters.

The number of careers for German air force pilots has been limited by West Germany's renouncement of heavy bombers. A new feature is that the army and the navy have their own flying units.

Altogether, the new German air force will have 1,326 front line planes in about four years. Those planes will be part of NATO's tactical forces. The first 26 German air force officers recently received their diplomas as jet pilots at Fuerstenfeldbruck.

KIWANIS INTERNATIONAL—Construction of a permanent home office building in Chicago for Kiwanis International will begin late this winter. The building, shown above in architect's drawing, will be air conditioned throughout. Its exterior will be composed of dark opalescent imported granite and textured, light Georgia marble, with enameled aluminum pilasters and plate glass windows. Currently there are 4,400 Kiwanis clubs with some 251,000 members in the U.S., Canada Alaska and the Hawaiian Islands. Kiwanians are aiming for 7,000 clubs by 1965, their 50th anniversary

INDIAN TAXES

NEW DELHI (AP)—Who pays the biggest share of India's taxes? Importers, and their customers, have held this unsolicited honor for nearly past 20 years with the payment of customs duties.

Of the total tax revenue of 4,280,000,000 rupees ($898,800,000) in the fiscal year 1955-56 (the last year for which final figures are available) nearly two-fifths came from customs duties, the government announced recently.

About one-third was derived from national excise duties. A little over one-fourth came from income and corporation taxes. These three sources together piled up 99.4 percent of the total tax revenue for that year.

Customs duties have been providing the biggest share of the taxes collected in this big underdeveloped country since 1938 with the exception of the war year 1944-45. The same situation, a government spokesman said, prevailed in the fiscal year 1956-57.

But in the new budget for the year 1957-58 excise duties are expected to provide the biggest slice of tax revenue: 41 percent. These taxes on a wide variety of articles from automobiles to tobacco are to yield 2,090,000,000 rupees ($438,900,000) in a total anticipated tax revenue of 5,150,000,000 rupees ($1,081,500,000).

Latitude of the North Pole is 90 degrees north and all degrees of longitude pass through that point.

Former Roodhouse Man Heads Ohio School Dept.

ROODHOUSE — Mr. and Mrs. Edward Akers returned Friday from West Lake, Ohio, where they visited his brother, Ralph R. Akers, and family.

Ralph Akers, formerly of this community and a graduate of the Manchester high school, has been a teacher in the industrial arts field for 18 years and for the last 12 years was director of guidance and placement at West Technical High School.

He has been appointed assistant supervisor of industrial arts for the Cleveland schools. He will begin his new duties on Aug. 26.

Margaret Akers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Akers of 26173 Center Ridge Road, a senior at West Lake High School, has been awarded a $1200 merit scholarship at Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., on the basis of competitive examinations given 348 students in tests held at the college and in New York. Miss Akers' award is the top regional one for the Cleveland Eastern Ohio area. The Allegheny scholarship awards apply against tuition costs over a four year period.

Leave For Michigan

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Elliott and son, Kim, left Monday on a trip to Mackinaw City, Mich., where they are visiting his uncle, Sam Elliott and wife. They were accompanied by her father from La Port, Ind. Rev. Elmer Johnston and wife, who also visited in the same home.

Mrs. Charles Brauer and son of Decatur, who have been visiting her brother-in-law, Wayne Brauer, wife, and son, were joined here during the weekend by her husband, a lieutenant in the reserves who had spent some time with his reserve unit in St. Louis, Mo.

Chicago Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Hunt and children, Chicago, have been visitors in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hunt, Sr.

Word has been received here by Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Hopkins of the hospitalization of a former resident, S. M. Drake, Sr., Boca Raton, Fla., who underwent a tonsillectomy and an eye operation for glaucoma.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Shaw and son, Chicago, have returned home after a visit with his sister, Mrs. Marguerite Giller, and others.

Mrs. Lida Thomas has returned from a seven-week vacation visit in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Donald Hill, and husband, Kansas City, Mo.

4-H Club Activities

The Meredosia Redi-Workers 4-H club held its meeting August 6, at the home of Donald Bradley. Glen Berghaus called the meeting to order. Gene Martin read the minutes of the last meeting and called the roll.

Mr. Rueb talked on "Showing at the Fair." Members worked on their record books.

Refreshments were served by the Bradleys, after which the meeting was adjourned.

Oil of mace is obtained from the kernel of the nutmeg.

Smock-Van Geison Families Meet At Douglas Park

The thirty-third Smock-Van Geison reunion was held in Douglas Park in Springfield on Sunday, Aug. 4. Thirty-one members and three guests were present. A basket dinner was served at noon. The president, Lewis Van Geison, presided over the business meeting.

The following officers were elected for 1957-58: Henry Specht of Farmersville, president; Don Van Geison, Pawnee, vice president; Lola Johnson of Jacksonville, secretary-treasurer.

The oldest person present was W. J. McMahan of Jacksonville. The youngest person present was Deborah Kay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Van Geison of Morrisonville.

The 1958 reunion will be held in dining room six, Nichols Park in Jacksonville, the first Sunday in August.

Local Girl In Special WAVE Company

Commander Almira B. Davis, U.S.N., representative of Captain Louise K. Wilde, Director of the WAVES, welcomed Illinois girls aboard after their enlistment in the U. S. Navy. The young ladies are members of the "Anniversary Company" commemorating the 15th Anniversary of the WAVES. (l to r) CDR Davis; Rose Mary Culp, Jacksonville; Donna Baker and Barbara Pinkoczi of Dixon; Carol Story, Marseilles; Elaine Londak, Chicago; Anita Arseneau, Beaverville; Barbara Ratcliff, Chicago and Carol Jung of Evanston, Ill.

Rose Mary Culp, 19, is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William V. Culp, 731 North Main street. She was graduated from Jacksonville High school in June this year. Before enlistment Miss Culp was employed at Barr's Laundry.

July 30th marked the 15th Anniversary of the WAVES as part of the U. S. Navy. Commemorating this anniversary the Chicago Recruiting District enlisted a special company of 21 women from parts of the states of Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana and Illinois.

Members of the "Anniversary Company" and their parents were guests at the Homecoming Review at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center on Saturday, 27 July. Following the review, Commander Almira B. Davis, USN from Washington, D. C., a representative of Captain Louise K. Wilde, director of the WAVES, officiated in the "swearing-in" ceremony held at a luncheon commemorating this 15th Anniversary and attended by all the WAVES presently stationed in the Great Lakes area.

The special company departed from Chicago Sunday evening for the U. S. Naval Training Center, Bainbridge, Md. where they will undergo nine weeks of recruit training prior to being assigned to various schools for specialized training.

While in Chicago they were quartered at the McCormick Y. W.C.A. and attended a dance at the USO on Saturday night. Sunday afternoon the management of Riverview Park invited the members of the "Anniversary Company" as their guests to enjoy the facilities offered at the park.

JALANE MAWSON GUEST OF HONOR AT BIRTHDAY PARTY

A birthday party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Mawson on Mound Road, Aug. 6, honoring the birthday of their daughter, Jalane K.

Cartoons were shown. The children sang "Happy Birthday" as Jalane blew out the candles on her cake, which was decorated with pink and blue. Ice cream bars were served with the cake. Jalane then opened her many presents.

Guests present were Mrs. Herbert Mawson, Mrs. Clarence Mallicoat, Jim and John Jones, Kay Jones, Dewey Coultas, John Long, Donnie Header, Sharon, Ed and Alan Mallicoat, Sue Wilson, Linda Mallicoat, Brenda Mallicoat, Beverly Wilson, Elaine Russell, Carmen Hembrough, Marsha Lewis, Elmer and Rodger Hardy, Mrs. Phyllis Hardy, Mrs. Chris Mallicoat, Mrs. Freda Mallicoat and the guest of honor and her brothers, Steven and David.

LONG WAIT

WAYNESBORO, Va. (AP)— Almost three years after Alvin P. Loskamp was killed in an airplane accident, his watch is being sent to his widow in Avalon, Calif. James T. Phillips of Waynesboro found the watch band on the night of the crash on calf mountain. On other trips to the scene he found "six or seven more pieces" of the watch and had them assembled by a jeweler.

AUTOMATION

YUMA, Colo. (AP)—During a severe wind storm, the Leonard Pagel family retreated to the basement as a safety measure. Little Kathy asked her mother, "Why did God do this?" Mrs. Pagel said she didn't know, but Kathy had her own idea. "He must have pushed the wrong button," Kathy said.

UNSTABLE HOBBY

MILTON, Wis. (AP)—Bricklayer Homer Hess uses sand to produce pictures, including such scenes as the white Washington Monument shaft surrounded at its base by pink cherry trees.

Hess colors the sand with ink and creates the scenes by sprinkling the sand on a tilted easel. He figures he pours a 100 pounds of sand into his projects during a year.

But he has one regret. He never had anything left. It takes just a brush of the hand to turn the pictures back into a sand pile.

AFTER 20 YEARS

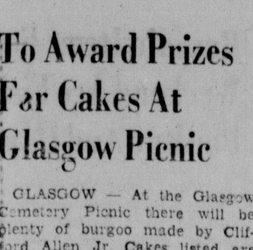

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—For 20 years Charles R. Purdy, clerk, and Miss Iva M. Robb, deputy clerk, worked side by side in Hustings Court here. Then they got married.

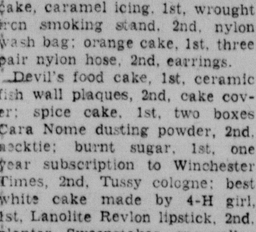

Texas has 168,732,160 acres of surface soil, 141,337,744 acres of it in farms and ranches.

STAMP OF GREATNESS— Three American cities closely associated with the memory of the Marquis de La Fayette have been chosen for simultaneous first day sales of this three-cent maroon stamp being issued in his honor, Sept. 6, the 200th anniversary of his birth. The cities are Easton, Pa., site of Lafayette College; Fayetteville, N.C., first town in America named for him, and Louisville, Ky., where the opening day of the 1957 Kentucky State Fair is "La Fayette Day." The stamp carries a likeness of him reproduced from a portrait now hanging in the Versailles Museum.

WHERE THERE'S SMOKE . . .—Cleveland firemen battle a warehouse fire which did an estimated $410,000 damage, including destruction of $250,000 in newsprint. Damage to the building was estimated at $150,000, and to trucks and other equipment, another $10,000.

OPERATION BOMB BAY DOORS—The rugged terrain of Catalina island off the coast of Southern California drops away from a U. S. Navy P2V-7 as her crewmen steer the Neptune seaward to check operation of the bomb bay doors.

CHILDREN'S VILLAGE

Kinderdorf's houses, in winter, suggest comfort amid the atmosphere of a resort.

NEAR the town of Imst, in the Austrian Tyrol, is the Children's village, or SOS Kinderdorf as it is often called. The village recently welcomed its 250th child, 10-year-old Joanna, whose mother died in childbirth and whose American father never did return from Korea. There are 19 neat one-family houses in addition to the administrative buildings, which include a workshop, store, sewing room, laundry, infirmary and auditorium. The village is supported for the most part by a large number of friends among the Austrian people. In each house, eight or ten boys and girls of all ages live with a "mother," who keeps house for them.

SAY "WHEN"—This German terrier, one of the smallest breeds in the world, watches as he gets some lemonade, his favorite summer drink, in Copenhagen.

Bargain Items For Weekend Are Fish, Poultry And Hams

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bargain food items will be limited this week to fish, poultry, smoked picnic hams and the cheaper cuts of lamb and beef.

Pricewise, the choicer varieties of beef, pork, lamb and veal are still pretty much in the luxury class.

Pork prices are down a shade at wholesale, portending possibly lower prices at retail in the not too distant future. But wholesale prices of beef and lamb show no inclination to fall.

Bacon prices, highest since 1954, are expected to stay that way for another month or so. They're up about 50 per cent at retail from a year ago. Eggs are down a little in some cities but not enough to make bacon and eggs a bargain dish.

Turkeys for roasting and chickens for frying or broiling continue to head the best buys in meat.

Seafood prices are moderate. Specials to be offered this week include perch fillets, swordfish steak, scallops and shrimp.

Outstanding buys in vegetables include potatoes, yellow onions, peppers, yellow or green squash, new green cabbage, radishes, tomatoes, scallions and pascal or golden heart celery.

Egg plant, cucumber, cauliflower and yellow sweet corn are listed as good buys. Lettuce and carrots (available in quantity only from the West Coast) are relatively high in price in most cities.

Peaches are still in plentiful supply and watermelons are rated an excellent buy in most sections.

Irick Family To Celebrate Centennial

PITTSFIELD—The descendants of Jacob and Elizabeth Sherer Irick, who came to Illinois from North Carolina in 1857, will celebrate the centennial anniversary of their arrival with a family picnic on Sunday, August 18 at the Pleasant View Community Center eight miles northwest of here where some of the descendants of the family have continued to live during the many years since the arrival of their forebears from the south.

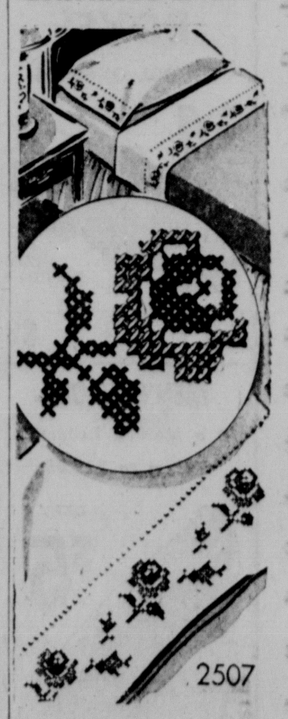

Devotional services are planned for 11:30 a.m. followed by a basket dinner, a program of entertainment and just reminiscing. Members of the family now scattered far and wide over the country plan to attend, many of them have achieved distinction in their chosen fields.

Among the grandchildren of the pioneers living in or near Pittsfield are, Mrs. Viola Barley, Mrs. Rebecca Iftner, Miss Grace Irick, Mrs. George Fish, Mrs. Nellie Warren, Mrs. Nora McGlasson, Mrs. Leslie Claus, Mrs. Isaac Hoskins, Harry Irick, Everett Irick, Clay Irick and Albert Irick.

Among their great-grandchildren are Wesley Iftner, Clay Ladell Irick, Joe, Jake and Roy Iftner, Mrs. Wesley Caughlan, Mrs. Joe Haddock, Ruth Irick, Betty Warren and perhaps others. The pioneer family and their descendant have been prominent over the years with their roots deep set in the community.

Ice Cream Man Mikoyan May Freeze Khrushchev

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Special Correspondent

BONN, Germany —(NEA — Although Nikita Khrushchev continues to talk tough there is increasing evidence that his personal power is already on the decline.

Yet another man is emerging in the Kremlin to contest Khrushchev's supremacy in the Red world, 62-year-old Anastas Mikoyan, First Deputy Premier in Moscow's recently-reshuffled government, long-time member of the powerful Politburo and probably the shrewdest businessman in Russia.

"The worldly wise little Armenian" former U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith once called Mikoyan. For many years Mikoyan was a protege of Stalin. But today he is rapidly becoming the favorite of the Red Army, which has become the dominant 'kingmaker" in Russia.

A German diplomat recently returned from Russia told me that should Marshal Georgi Zhukov — or his rival, Marshal Ivan S. Konev — decide that the hard-drinking and loud-mouthed Khrushchev has outlived his usefulness, sober Mikoyan is the likeliest choice to succeed him.

* * *

Mikoyan was relatively unknown before Stalin's death. He is short and dark and has a bristling mustache and piercing oriental eyes. He displays a taste for well-tailored clothes.

Under Stalin he preferred the shadows while other Politburo members — most of them since dead or in eclipse—basked in the limelight. But it was Mikoyan who guided Moscow's foreign and domestic trade for close to three decades.

He negotiated billion - dollar commercial agreements with Nazi Germany—immediately before the outbreak of the last war — and with the U. S. and Britain after Hitler attacked Russia. He was the first member of the Politburo (Vyacheslav Molotov was the only other) to have visited the U. S. and who has maintained throughout the years close and even friendly contact with American diplomats and businessmen.

On several occasions he even had the courage to voice his admiration for the industrial achievements of "capitalist" America.

* * *

Americans, including this writer, who met Mikoyan during his 1936 coast-to-coast visit of the U. S. remember him as a man with a keen wit and mind. Afterward he had the courage to introduce to Russia such American "luxuries" as corn flakes, puffed wheat, tomato juice, eskimo pie and grapefruit. Rumor had it that he was also going to import popcorn machines—but at this point the other Politburo members became frightened of the subversive propaganda value of popcorn and prevailed on Stalin to veto the project.

One of the first things Mikoyan did when he arrived in the U. S. was to eat lunch in a cafeteria where "ordinary American workers ate." After a couple of well done hamburgers with onions he ordered a glass of beer — which arrived with a large head of suds.

"Why don't we have such good beer with such a fine head on it in the Soviet Union?" Mikoyan demanded of the chief of his beer trust.

"Comrade Mikoyan," the frightened official answered, "our workers wouldn't stand for this capitalist method of being cheated by getting air bubbles instead of beer."

"Rot," Mikoyan snapped, "make sure that the beer machinery you buy in Milwaukee produces plenty of foam."

* * *

When he returned to Russia Mikoyan proclaimed far and wide that Russians "must study America." However, this did not stop him from attacking the U. S. as an "undernourished, exploiting imperialist country" when Stalin embarked on his anti-U. S. policy after the war.

U. S. diplomats who saw Mikoyan recently report that, while he has an intense dislike for Red China's Chou En-lai, U.S., contacts with him have been congenial.

Anastas Ivanovich Mikoyan was born on Nov. 25, 1895, the son of a worker in the Armenian village of Sanain, near the Georgian border where Stalin also was born.

Like Stalin, he studied for the priesthood. But, unlike Stalin, Mikoyan actually finished his courses at an Armenian Church seminary, graduating with honors in 1915. However, the same year he joined the Bolshevik Party, became an underground conspirator and subsequently took part in the 1917 revolution which ushered Lenin into power.

* * *

In the early 1920's, Mikoyan became one of the Communist party regional chiefs whom Stalin put into office when he was engaged in a life-and-death struggle with his bitter enemy, Leon Trotsky. He helper Stalin defeat Trotsky and after that Mikoyan's rise in the Kremlin hierarchy, mostly as an expert in domestic and foreign trade, was steady.

After Stalin's death—although Mikoyan was among the first to denounce his late benefactor as a tyrant—he preferred to remain in obscurity while Lavrenti Beria, Georgi Malenkov, Vyacheslav Molotov and Khrushchev reached for power.

An oriental skilled in the arts of bargaining in intrigue, Mikoyan is thus the only high-ranking Soviet official to have survived for more than three decades all the blood purges and the Kremlin's internal upsets.

Stalin is dead. Mikoyan's best friend and fellow Georigan, Lavrenti Beria was executed — not without Mikoyan's help. Molotov, Malenkov, Iazar Kaganovich and other of Mikoyan's colleagues in the Politburo have recently been purged as traitors and anti-party conspirators.

Only Khrushchev remains. But, he too, is in trouble. He may believe himself to be a dictator, but he is, in fact, merely running Russia temporarily as the Red Armys' bailiff. He is a man desperately trying to control new forces, still only partly liberated, which are sweeping away old landmarks like an advancing tide. Only Anastas Mikoyan's star is rising.

Waverly High School Opens August 29th

WAVERLY — Waverly high school will be in session from 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon (CST) Thursday, Aug. 29, and all day Friday. No school on Sept. 2, but all back ready for work Sept. 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Robinson of Winchester were Sunday afternoon guests of Miss Lucille Hageman.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Walsh and son, Gary, of Virginia, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Prickett. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde J. Morrow and children, Jerry and Sharon, of Stelle, Ala., are still visiting the Pricketts, her parents, so all the family were together Sunday.

Carl Jones and Dewayne Stone left Sunday for a trip by auto to California, probably to Los Angeles first, then up the coast. They will be gone about two weeks.

Mrs. J. S. Sinclair and daughter, Miss Virginia Sinclair, of Raymond, visited Mrs. Ida Davis, the mother and grandmother, on Tuesday.

J. E. Davis of Atwater visited Mrs. Ida Davis and Miss Eola Pease on Wednesday.

Mrs. Ray D. McCollum and son, Stephen, left Friday night for Kansas City, Mo., for a weeks vacation with friends, going first to Mrs. Arthur Howell.

Saturday morning, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Howell, 41 friends gathered for a breakfast in honor of Mrs. McCollum and all had a wonderful time.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Muckelston and Mrs. Laura Ruble, mother of Mrs. Muckelston, of Alexander, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Burch.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wiese, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Williams and daughter, Judy, of Waverly, and Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Williams Sr., of Kansas City, Mo., attended the graduation exercises of St. Joseph Hospital School of Nursing, held at the St. Patrick's church in Alton at 2:30 p.m., in which the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wiese, E. H. Wiese Jr., was graduated Sunday, Aug 11.

His Excellency Most Reverend William A. O'Connor, Bishop of Springfield, was the speaker. There were 26 in the class, and after the exercises a reception was held at the School of Nursing for members and their families. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wiese Jr. are moving to Springfield, where Mrs. Wiese, former Jean Williams, a graduate of Memorial Hospital in Springfield, will again be working and E. H. Wiese Jr. (Buddy) will enter the St. John School of Anaesthetic in Springfield at the St. John's Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Williams Sr., came to the home of their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wiese, last Wednesday and left Monday for their home in Kansas City, Mo., after a visit with them and attending the graduation exercises of their grandson.

Mrs. Ella Edwards and daughter, Miss Wanda Edwards, went to Peoria Thursday to visit with their daughter and sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. W. Edgar Douglass. Saturday night the Douglas' brought them home and remained until Sunday to return to Peoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hopper visited their new granddaughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hopper of rural route Jacksonville, on Sunday.

Visit Former Virginia People In Kansas

VIRGINIA—Mr. and Mrs. Russell Decker and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brannan returned Tuesday from a vacation trip through the west. Some of the places of interest seen were Estes Park, Rocky Mountain National Park, Pikes Peak and Manitou Springs.

In Kansas Mr. and Mrs. Decker visited relatives in Great Bend and Hoisington and enroute home the group visited Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Stauffer of Valley Center, Kan., former Virginia residents.

Breaks Two Bones

Early Sunday morning, Mrs. Tom Livingston fell in her bathroom and broke two bones in her right ankle. A local physician x-rayed the break and placed the ankle in a cast. She is being cared for in her home.

Lightning Destroys

In an electrical storm about 6 o'clock Monday evening, lightning struck TV wires at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Beddingfield destroying their television. During the same storm, lightning struck a chimney on the Paul Ross home destroying it.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Decker and son, Charles, left Wednesday, for a visit with relatives in Hammond, Ind.

Return From Vacation

Rev. and Mrs. Paul DuBois have returned from a several week's vacation and regular Sunday morning worship services will be held in the Methodist church.

News Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Jack King and Larry left Tuesday for Tucson, Ariz., where they will make their home in the future.

Fred L. Fisher and Robert Downs were in St. Louis, Monday, for examination for induction in the Air Force.

Larry Fisher will enter the Gem City Business College in Quincy in the next few weeks.

Mrs. Jack Duffy of Minneapolis and Mrs. Carl Altman of Pleasant Plains, were guests of relatives and friends in this city Tuesday. They are the daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Turner, and spent their early life in Virginia.

HUGE EGGS

The flightless kiwi bird of New Zealand lays eggs in proportion to its size which are larger than those of any other living species. They measure five by three inches and weigh a pound.

The wool from Angora rabbits is harvested every 10 to 12 months.

SHIPPING STAMP — This three-cent stamp, commemorating the 350th anniversary of shipbuilding in America, will be placed on sale at Bath, Me., on Aug. 15. The attractive stamp, purple in color, features as its central design a drawing of the "Virginia of Sagadahock," the first ship built in America to participate in world commerce. The vessel was built in 1607.

LUTHERAN LEADER—Bishop Lajos Ordass, above, primate of the Lutheran Church of Hungary, listens attentively to a reporter's question following his arrival in Minneapolis from Budapest. Here to participate in the Lutheran World Federation Assembly, Bishop Ordass had been imprisoned by the Hungarian government for two years in 1948. He will address the assembly which will be attended by 10,000 delegates from all over the world.

Wheeler-Hall Reunion Held Sunday In Chapin

The Wheeler and Hall reunion was held Sunday, August 11, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Seth Thorndike of Chapin, Ill., with a basket dinner at noon.

During the business meeting which followed the officers for the coming year were elected. They are president, Mrs. A. J. Wheeler, of Literberry; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Dorothy Kennedy, of Mt. Sterling.

The 1958 reunion will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hall at Versailles, the second Sunday in August.

The afternoon was spent visiting and taking pictures. The oldest member present was John Read of Perry, Ill., who was 89 years old. The youngest member there was Kathleen Rene Thorndike of Winchester, who is nine months old.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wheeler of Literberry; Mr. and Mrs. Don Gish and Byron of Beardstown; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rodinger of Mt. Sterling; Mr. and Mrs. Silvey Koch of Versailles; Larry and Niles Surratt of Milan; Mr. Eldon Kennedy and daughter, Dorothy, of Mt. Sterling; Mr. and Mrs. Dale Thorndike and daughter, Kathleen, of Winchester; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wheeler of Roodhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. John Read of Perry; Mrs. Minnie Sibert, Perry; Mrs. Miranda Carpenter, Mt. Sterling; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Forsythe, Gene and Dennis, of Mt. Sterling; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Johnson of Springfield; Mrs. Leah Howard of Jacksonville; Mrs. Loraine Hall, Lindy and Cindy, of Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Collins of Ashland; Mr. and Mrs. Dean Kauder of Mt. Sterling; Laurence and Leonard Gregg of Beardstown; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hall of Mt. Sterling; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Howard of Macomb; and Mr. and Mrs. Seth Thorndike of Chapin.

BLUFFS FAMILY ENTERTAINS AT SUNDAY DINNER

BLUFFS — Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Hamilton of Bluffs entertained at dinner Sunday the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schone, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Detmer, Adelia Hamilton of Winchester, Irene Hamilton, Mrs. Leona Daub, Howard Schone, Mike Daub, Lavona Schone and Kay Williams.

Mrs. Leona Daub and son came from Los Angeles, Calif., by plane Friday and left Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Hamilton for Yorktown, Va., to visit Dan Hamilton, who is stationed with the United States Marines. They will return to California by plane Aug. 15.
